Swain would be spared for a while

Building committee proposes major changes

by Kevin Maher

One part of the proposed Phase II plan by the Wilmington Permanent Building Committee calls for the demolition of the Swain School in order to make room for building additions to the town library and Department of Public Works, as well as creating new municipal offices.

The committee members hope to have a recommendation for Phase II sometime in April. Before then, however, town residents will vote on Phase I, which calls for $31 million to build a new public safety building and middle school.

According to the Library Director, Tina Stewart, the current library is not large enough for the size of the population. One of the potential solutions is to have a branch facility, but Ms. Stewart feels that this is not a desirable option. By having two locations it means more employees, and more money.

The cost of a library addition would be around $4 million for the town of Wilmington. At the moment it appears that an application for financial aid will be needed to go forward with the library project. The projected cost for a new town hall is around $6 million, and the Department of Public works would roughly be around $1.7 million.

Michael Cairra, the town manager of Wilmington, explained that the proposition of an addition to the library or new municipal offices is in the potential stage. All plans are only ideas, and all plans are for the long term future.

Phase II is a ten year plan that won't effect anyone for quite awhile. The Swain School will remain standing, and will not be taken down until it is absolutely necessary, which may not be for five years or so. Even if this happens, the organizations who currently use the Swain School as a workplace will not be displaced with the buildings demolition. Room will be found for the television station and the police facility will also be relocated.

Mr. Cairra stated that every future decision relied on the outcome of the Phase I vote. In order to discuss spending money

Deputy Nally finalist in Tyngsboro

by Frank Amato

Wilmington deputy police chief Bernard Nally Jr. has been chosen to move forward in the selection process for the position of chief of police in Tyngsboro.

Nally applied for the position last fall when the town ran advertisements announcing the vacancy. The current chief, Charles Chronopoulos has made plans to retire this spring.

Deputy Nally was one of more than 50 applicants for the spot. A search committee chose 11 of the applicants to proceed forward to the quarterfinal stage. His competition includes four current police chiefs, a captain, two lieutenants, two sergeants and the commander of a major of a crime investigative unit.

All of the candidates have a minimum of 10 years experience, and have at least an associates degree. All of the officers reside in New England.

Selectmen have said that interviews with the search committee will play a large part in the decision.

Deputy Nally has 29 years on the job, including 14 years as deputy chief, and boasts Master's degree in criminal justice.

A decision is expected by April 1st.

Beth Gonsalves won a pre-owned, "slightly used" 1987 Plymouth Reliant K car from Cain's Chrysler Plymouth at a President's Day promo with WRKO's Marjorie Clapgood. Gonsalves drove in the ugliest heap of the year thus clinching the first place "prize". (photo by Erik Neilson)

Abigail Adams' Wilmington visit

by Kevin Maher

An innovative education tool for teachers made its Wilmington debut this past week. On February 11 and 12, the fifth graders of the Woburn, Shawsheen, and Wildwood Elementary schools were the first area students to take part in a program conducted by the Bright Star Learning Co-Operative. The non-profit, Chicago based corporation visits schools throughout the nation with a three part workshop. The Wilmington performance surrounded the tale of The Revolutionary Abigail Adams.

The first part of the program was the consultation of all the Wilmington fifth grade teachers at Tectron Systems, at 201 Lowell Street. This inservice was conducted on February 7 for three hours, by Bright Star consultants, Rebecca Bloomfield, and Robin Bennett.

The second component of the program involved the theater performance of The Revolutionary Abigail Adams in each of the schools. The final component involved the combination of teachers and consultants, working with students in the classroom, in an effort to connect the performance to classroom learning.

According to the Curriculum Coordinator of the Wilmington Public schools, Lore Nielson, the event was well received by both the students and teachers. The performance went along with the students curriculum, and was a change of pace from the usual classroom lecture.

The program was co-sponsored by Tectron Systems, along with the three Elementary schools and the Wilmington school system. The School-Business Partnership, Winchester Hospital, Wilmington-Tewksbury Elks, Rotary Club, and C.J. McCarthy Insurance Agency and Financial Services were also contributors to the program costs.

Human interest stories needed

Wilmington man charged with rape

by Frank Amato

George L. Barbosa, 56, of 27 Roosevelt road in Wilmington and Florida was arrested on five counts of rape and five counts of assault and battery on a child Friday evening as he disembarked from a plane at Logan International Airport by Wilmington police Inspectors Pat King and Mike Celata.

King, who said that the victim, a young teenage male was an acquaintance of Barbosa. The rapes took place over a three year period. The parents became suspicious when they overheard a telephone conversation between their son and Barbosa. They contacted Inspector King who contacted the Middlesex County District Attorney's sexual crimes unit. They then interviewed the victim and based on that interview the warrant was then issued.

King also said that Barbosa would be indicted by the Middlesex County Grand Jury Friday, or early next week.

Barbosa is being held at the Cambridge Jail on $100,000 cash bail or 1 Million surety bond.

Wilmington man killed on Rt 128 mishap

by Frank Amato

George F. Antico 34, of Wilmington was struck and killed when he attempted to cross Route 128 in Reading, Friday afternoon.

Apparently Mr. Antico's car broke down on the Route 28 exit off Route 128. He was struck as he attempted to cross the highway to get help.

Born in Somerville, he was the son of Francesco and Pierina (Lidano) both of Wilmington. He lived in Wilmington most of his life and graduated from Wilmington High School with the Class of 1980. He later graduated from Northeastern University and was currently employed as an accountant.

In addition to his parents, Mr. Antico is survived by his wife Joanne (Boisvert); his children, Ashley and Eric Antico both of Wilmington; his brother Robert Antico of Wilmington and his mother-in-law.

His funeral was held from the W.S. Cavanaugh & Son Funeral Home Tuesday morning followed by a funeral mass at St. Thomas Church and interment in the family lot, Wildwood Cemetery.

Sixteen Wilmington High School students took part in a 13 school Decca competition held January 30 in Lowell.

At the close of the event, six local contenders were among the winners: L-r: Jo-Ann Tamillo, Tomahawk Drive, Food Marketing; Michelle Niestepski, Boutwell Street, General Marketing; Ben DeGennaro, Presidential Drive, Quick Serve Restaurant; Tanya Holmes, Garden Avenue, Apparel and Accessories Marketing; Ryan Harrison, Clark Street, Retail Merchandising; Keith McLaren, Carson Avenue, Retail Merchandising. Mrs. Frances Boudreau serves as Decca advisor.

"SIMPLE" NEW PENSION PLAN

SIMPLE stands for Savings Incentive Match Plan for Employees, a new retirement plan for small companies with 100 or fewer employees. It works something like a 401 (K) in that the employer matches the tax-deferred contributions made by the worker, but the record-keeping is simpler and less expensive. In addition, there are no "top-heavy" rules; the contribution to the employer in his own account is not limited by the participation of the workers. There are limits to the SIMPLE system, though. The business owner can put away no more than 6,000 a year and must in most cases match employees' contributions dollar for dollar, up to 3 percent of their salaries, also with a cap of $6,000. The plan is expected to be most attractive to very small companies in which workers are relatively low-paid—and owners may be, too. For others, the dollar-for-dollar match may drive costs too high and the $6,000 top may be to low for the owner.

Water, water, water Tewksbury selectmen go deep

by Charlotte Cooper

The topic on the agenda that caused the most conversation and consternation at the Board of Selectmen's meeting Tuesday night was the ongoing problems on Martha and Starr Avenues. When Martha and Starr Avenues were reconstructed after laying sewer pipe, the roadway was unevenly restored which created water drainage problems. Before the project began, there was a catch basin at the end of the street that provided a place for the water. Water runoff along those streets has worsened since the reconstruction project began and the receptacles for that water have become some of the resident's yards and basements.

Mrs. Barbara Gesin and Mr. Paul Fasel came before the Board to explain the problems they have been experiencing with the roadway and water drainage. The street rises six inches above her driveway. "I can't redo my driveway without filling in my yard. Right now, the water has no where to go and gets trapped in the yard and driveway," she says. The water collects in her driveway and spills into her finished basement. Sheila Hanrahan, another Martha Ave. resident, is also experiencing problems. "Our driveway has a one and one half foot drop-off to the new road and our neighbors' driveway has over a three foot drop! Who's responsible to see that the specifications are completed after the boards have approved the plans? We were told the grade would not change," she said.

Other residents present at the meeting voiced their concerns. Selectman Richard "Pete" Hanson stated that "there is evidence that the grade of the road has been changed and it is something the board can do. You don't abandon a job. It should be corrected. We need to determine if the contractor is at fault." Selectman Joan Dunlevy added that "we need to gather information and go over this as a board, then get a plan together and bring an engineer if necessary."

Mr. Burris of the DPW stated that "the rise in the road was proposed from the beginning. Martha Ave. is not finished yet. We will correct the problem if we caused it. The temporary work we've done is working. We will commit to fixing it and we'll look what to do about it in the Spring." Mr. Burris also said that berms have been put on some driveways to ease the water drainage problem temporarily. The selectmen agreed that it has been an unusual winter. The combination of frozen ground and abundant rain has created water problems for many Tewksbury residents.

Chairman Joe Gill addressed the residents at the meeting "Complaints need to be looked at. You've started the ball rolling now and you need to go to the Planning Board and Conservation Commission. You also need to understand our limitations. This third problem is more in our hands and we'll do our best to relieve some of your concerns.

If you have any other problems, let us know as soon as they happen." Joan Dunlevy made a motion to gather more information on this issue no less than 45 days from today. The vote was unanimous.

Another issue raised by the Starr and Martha Ave. residents was regarding individual pumps necessary to connect to the gravity fed sewer line. Plans by Cuoco & Cormier Engineering show that parts of Martha Ave. are situated too low to connect directly to the sewer line and sewage must be pumped up and out into it if they choose hook up. Seven Martha Ave. residences would like the town to pay for these individual pumps so that they can utilize the sewer line on their street. Starr Ave. and Lowe St. have a similar problem, but the town paid for a temporary pumping station, which won't be necessary when the sewer lines from the Martel Estates extend to them.

Representatives from the Friends of the Library came before the Board to ask the ongoing support. As part of their fund-raising campaign, a pin has been designed with the library's logo and will be on sale for $5.00 at the library and at the Tewksbury Town Clerk's office. Proceeds go towards the library museum pass program and other library related causes. The Board designated the next 45 days as Library Support Days. Books may be dropped off at the library for recycling.

Joan Dunlevy received a complaint from a resident in the trailer park regarding noise from a gas meter. It was agreed by the Board to discuss this complaint with Colonial Gas Company and come up with a solution by March 11 for this problem.

A motion was made by Kevin Anderson to explore the possibility of utilizing the warehouse of Ideal Wire Products as a town storage facility. The motion was approved.

Pole petitions for County Road and Valley road were approved.

The Main street petition approval will be effective only after NYNEX, the Town Manager and The DPW meet and discuss the issue.

Mr. Gill suggested that the Board present Teresa Cooper of Tewksbury with a citation at the next meeting to recognize her role in saving a child in Lowell who was choking.

Mrs. Dunlevy reported on a meeting held by the Trustees of Tewksbury Hospital. The plans to host the DUI education program, which is being moved from Waltham, were discussed.

Town Manager, David Cressman stated that the town had received a favorable ruling on a bid protest which had been stalling sewer contract #18.

Wilmington's ambassador to Europe

by John Gabriel

Matthew Koslowski, 14, has been chosen along with a few other special individuals, to represent the Middlesex county in the People to People Student Ambassador Program. Matthew will be one out of only thirty students selected to represent the area. He will be traveling throughout Great Britain experiencing many different cultures.

Matthew is in eighth grade at the West Intermediate school. He was interviewed by the program leaders, and found to have extraordinary qualities, allowing him to participate in the program. Hundreds of teenagers apply every year for this opportunity, making it a great honor for those special students selected.

People to People is a program started by President Eisenhower in 1956. The idea behind the program is to allow students who possess well rounded qualities to learn about other cultures, gain a deeper appreciation of our traditional values, and share their experiences from the United States with people from different countries.

Matthew will be spending three weeks visiting England, Wales, Scotland and Ireland. Along with meeting government officials in the specific regions, he will be visiting museums, galleries, and other places of interest. He will be acquiring high school credits through some of the activities the group will be participating in.

The groups delegation leader, Jerry Ryan, is planning to teach Gaelic to his student ambassadors. The group will be keeping a journal throughout their travels, and during their program, they will be sharing their ideas with others around them.

Matthew and his group will be leaving July 4th for London. They will be staying three weeks in various "home stays", hostels and hotels throughout Great Britain. Throughout the past this opportunity has proved both beneficial to the countries visited and the participants.

Letters to the editor

Dear Larz:

Being a proud grandfather of three preschool children and recently retired, I attended a meeting for parents of school age children. I wanted to assure myself that Cameron, Adam and Michelle when ready for school would be given every opportunity of receiving a fine education in the Tewksbury Public Schools.

What I heard surprised me. Class sizes were on the increase. Space limitations were creating inequities in educational programs offerings. How could this be? We all know that the direction in which education starts a young child will determine his future life. We hope and pray that our children and our children's children will succeed in life.

I began to read independent reports funded by the town. They all indicated that over the next few years there will be shortage of 450 elementary pupil stations and 350 middle school pupil stations.

At the Town Meeting in 1994, I was happy that our town had the foresight to select a cross section of town leaders to explore and confirm the extent of the problem (Long Range Building Committee Town Meeting October 11, 1994).

They reviewed 12 options recommending to the Town Meeting on May 6, 1996, "complete renovation and addition of classroom space to the Center school to house 800 elementary students grades five and six and a per class size of twenty-five (25)." They confirmed a desperate need for space and that there was a real need in our schools.

Beginning in June of 1996 the School Building Committee began to fulfill their mandate. They would present to the town an economically feasible plan to meet the space needs and educational program needs of the Tewksbury Public School System utilizing the Center School.

Upgrading to Code and meeting other State Standards in renovating the Center School with the additions proved more costly than a new school. The School Building Committee could not recommend a $17,500,000 project in clear conscience even if 70 percent was to be paid by the State of Massachusetts. They made their report to the town.

The Town Meeting on January 25, 1997 allowed the Selectmen to form a new committee. The appointed committee felt that it was their duty to provide a new school that was economically feasible and met the educational program needs of the students. Their goal was to meet the June 1, 1997 deadline set by the State to receive 70 percent state reimbursement for the project.

Last evening, I attended the meeting of North Street and Dewing School Parents. Steve Whitham, Chairperson presented the "new" school proposal to those in attendance. He said, "Let me make it crystal clear, the School Building Committee has worked long and hard these many months and we believe this is the way to go."

Additions and other remedies to the problem of space which were explored and rejected in the past by past committees were also rejected by the new committee.

The school will house 800 students in grades five and six. It will allow the elementary and middle schools to send their fifth and sixth grade students to the new school in September, 1999. This will create needed space and improve the present program. The school will be located behind the present Center School on Pleasant Street. It will have 40 classrooms including a dedicated Art and Music room, two computer classrooms, a full gymnasium for school use, after school use and community use, a media/library area and two special education rooms.

The New School Building Committee was polled and each voted that this project was appropriate, correct, economically feasible and would provide for the educational program needed for our students. After many months of study and years of reports this was their recommendation.

Being on a "fixed" income as I am, I made some telephone calls. I have been given an assurance by town officials that the state will give the town $10,744,000 of the total cost of the project, three to five years after the project is completed, over a 20 year period. I have been told that the State has never defaulted in school building assistance.

The school's basic "turn key" cost with furniture, library books and other hardware items is approximately $4,600,000. I have been told that the tax rate will increase in 1999 to pay for the project. If Town Officials use the reimbursements to decrease the loan, the original tax increase for the school will lessen each year over the length of the loan.

Since October, 1994 the Town Meeting recognized a problem existed. As far as I am concerned, more discussion, evaluations or studies are no longer needed. We have done that and we have been there.

For a cost of $4,600,000, a new school will open in September of 1999 and young elementary students will receive what they deserve, space to learn and a proper educational foundation.

"When I was young we didn't have...." is no longer an excuse I can use. You and I must face our responsibilities. They are "Our" kids. All of us must provide for them as our past townspeople provided for us. "The direction in which education starts a man will determine his future" - Plato, The Republic.

Please attend Town Meeting on March 4, 1997 and vote for the school. Please attend our polling place on March 8, 1997 and vote for the school.

Thank you for reading this man's opinion.
William J. DeGregorio.

Dear Larz:

We recently received a copy of an article published in your newspaper featuring our Baby Think it Over Program. Thank you for the coverage. We are always happy to see how our product impacts students. We appreciate your focus on the problems faced by teenage parents, and the efforts of school and community organizations to combat these problems through education.

Thank you again for the wonderful article. Please feel free to call us at 1-800-830-1416 if you ever have any questions or comments.

Sincerely,
Roger Hudritsch,
Director of Marketing and
Customer Service

Dear Larz:

I would like to encourage all Wilmington residents to take advantage of the opportunity to invest in Wilmington's future at the April Town Election. We are being given a chance to upgrade and improve our town by supporting the building of a new school and public safety building.

If we do not support these projects, the alternatives are pretty scary. The fire and police personnel can not run at a maximum efficiency when cramped into substandard facilities. Eighth graders do not belong in a high school. There is no way to effectively teach in a classroom of 30 or more children. There are currently classes of this size in our elementary schools and there are 500 additional children who will be entering the school system in the next five years.

In order to provide a safe community and, of equal importance, a good education for our children, please support the new buildings for Wilmington and its residents.

Sincerely,
Karen E. Campbell

Police still seek assailant

by Frank Amato

Wilmington police are continuing their search for a suspect in the January 27th early Sunday morning assault of John F. Burke, 22, of Wilmington.

According to Wilmington police inspector Pat King, the suspect and Burke had some sort of argument in the parking lot of Simards Roast Beef on Main st., which carried over to the Wilmington Plaza across from Simards.

Burke was found a short time later unconscious. According to King, he had been struck several times with an unknown object.

Mr. Burke was Medi-Flighted to Massachusetts Hospital where he remains in a coma.

Police have recovered a cup from the scene which is now being processed and may provide clues as to the attackers identity.

Police are looking for a white male approximately 22 years of age, with sandy brown hair and thick glasses. He was driving a 1990's red Ford Thunderbird with two occupants, with the possibility of a third, a female in the back seat.

Anyone who might recognize the suspect, or have any information concerning this incident is urged to call Inspector Pat King at 657-8082.

Who is that guy with the Queen of England? Could it be Wilmington's Bud Callahan? No - it must be Bud's double! The truth? See the story below.

The Queen visits Bud Callahan

by John Gabriel

Nobody believed that Queen Elizabeth II would show up drinking wine in the middle of Dublin, Ireland. But a resident of Wilmington now has the proof to go along with his incredible story.

Bud Callahan of Wilmington has told his story on numerous occasions, only to be greeted by disbelieving snarls, and occasional nods of acceptance. However, the picture has been developed, and Bud has the proof he has needed to continue telling his hard to believe story.

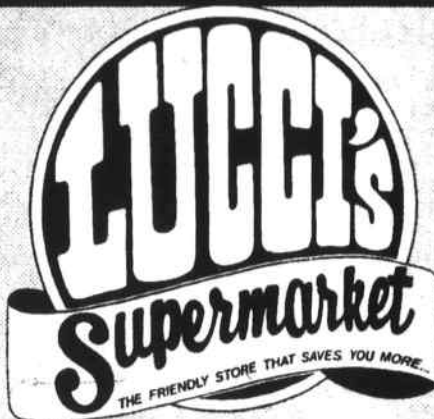

Bud and his friends, Jim and Midge O'Leary of Tewksbury, were sightseeing on a Dublin Tour Bus when they noticed that traffic had come to a stop for reasons undiscovered thus far.

People were turning their cars off in the middle of the street, staring with their mouths open. As Bud pressed himself off the seat to take a closer look, he noticed the Queen of England, not unlike himself, relaxing on the Dublin Tour Bus. Bud, with his incredible knack of thinking quickly, moved closer to the Queen. As the tour bus stopped, the Queen was met by an extravagant Rolls-Royce.

Just before she made her last wave, and saluted the onlooking crowd, Bud managed to make his way towards the Queen. Although many people would be reluctant to approach such royalty, Bud, proudly walked up to her, smiled, and greeted the Queen openly. She was so impressed with his bold venture that she too smile, and gave a welcoming handshake.

Bud's story usually ends there. This newspaper, however, must reveal that the lady shaking hands with Bud is know as Jeannette Charles, a royal double for the queen. She had flown in from London to launch a classic car auction. However, this last paragraph may be easily detached from the rest of the story so that Bud can continue to tell his story, unaltered, to many other unsuspecting friends.

Free computer training and employment classes

Computer training seminars and employment workshops are held twice weekly by the Town of Wilmington's Community Development Program at 10 Church Street. Classes are free of charge to Wilmington residents. Program schedules are available at Wilmington Memorial Library or by calling 658-9843.

During evening classes, held every Thursday from 7 to 9, guest speakers will present the following:

Inside Human Resources February 18, Virginia Hahn,

Wilmington Regional Human Resources Manager for Analog Devices, provides a corporate view of the hiring process with tips on how to increase your prospects of landing a good job.

It's Your Money February 25, Eileen Marsan, Director of Wilmington's Community Development Program, explains how to manage savings and investments. Video presentation included.

Morning workshops are held each Thursday from 10 a.m. to noon during the month as follows:

Geographic Information Systems, February 20; Bill Beyer, hydrogeologist from Fay, Spofford and Thorndyke, shows how to use this powerful computer tool and discusses applications in the workplace.

Market yourself, February 27, Cathy Beyer, employment counselor for Wilmington

Community Development Program, presents techniques to establish and promote yourself as an expert in your professional field.

In addition to those workshops, the program also offers a range of employment services, including individual job counseling, access to computers for employment related activities, and training grants for income eligible Wilmington residents. The Community Development Program is sponsored by the Town of Wilmington and funded through a Community Development Block Grant from the Massachusetts Department of Housing and Community Development.

For more information about the Community Development Program's Employment Assistance and Training call 658-9843 between 9:30 a.m. and 2 p.m. Monday through Thursday.

I like the American-madeness of the car.

—Gail Gross—

Every Saturn is built in downtown Spring Hill, Tennessee. (Actually, it's more on the outskirts of town, but you get the picture.) And as another owner put it, "The last time I looked at a map, Tennessee was right in the greenest part of the U.S. of A." Which means that if American-madeness is what you want in a car, Saturns are just loaded with it.

Hope to see you soon

Obituaries

George F. Antico Wilmington High Class of 1980

George F. Antico, 34, of Wilmington, died February 14, 1997 due to injuries sustained in an automobile accident. Born in Somerville, he was the son of Francesco and Pierina (Lidano) both of Wilmington. He lived in Wilmington most of his life and graduated from Wilmington High School with the Class of 1980. He later graduated from Northeastern University and was currently employed as an accountant.

In addition to his parents, Mr. Antico is survived by his wife Joanne (Boisvert); his children, Ashley and Eric Antico both of Wilmington; his brother Robert Antico of Wilmington and his mother-in-law. His funeral was held from the W.S. Cavanaugh & Son Funeral Home Tuesday morning followed by a funeral mass at St. Thomas Church and interment in the family lot, Wildwood Cemetery.

Dennis L. Ford formerly of Wilmington

Dennis L. Ford, 53, of Birch Street, at Twin Pine Estates, No. Waterboro, Maine, formerly of Westdale Avenue, Wilmington, died Thursday, Feb. 13, 1997 at his home following a two year battle with cancer. Born in Beverly, MA July 17, 1943, he was the son of Thomas and Doris (Honeysett) Ford. He attended Danvers, MA schools and was a 1961 graduate of Essex Agricultural High School in Middleton, MA. Mr. Ford had lived in No. Waterboro for the past 10 years, after moving from Wilmington where he lived from 1972 to 1986. He was a truck driver since the age of 17 and prior to his illness owned and operated Ford's Enterprize of Waterboro. He was a U.S. Army veteran, having served in Korea. He is survived by his mother of Danvers; his wife of 30 years, Evelyn (Sachetto) Ford of No. Waterboro; four daughters, Cheryl Reed of Wilmington, Tammy Landry of Washington State, Stacey Ford of Biddeford and Amanda Ford of No. Waterboro; his brother, Brian Ford of Danvers and nine grandchildren. Funeral arrangements, under the direction of the LaFrance-Lambert Funeral Home of Sanford, were private.

Wilmington Lions Club

The Wilmington Lions Club's Cabaret Show & Dance held Saturday evening, February 15 at the Hillview Country Club in North Reading, was a huge success. Approximately 300 people enjoyed the evening as the Masquerade Performance Group presented "A Musical Journey." The evening included dancing, food and fun for all. The Lions Club wishes to thank the many local businesses who helped sponsor the evening and make it such an enjoyable evening. With their help, the proceeds of the evening will help to support the many charities supported by the Lions, in particular eye research.

Watercolor classes at Art Center

The Wilmington Council for the Arts will sponsor Ms. Louise Anderson again as instructor in its series of watercolor classes for its spring 1997 season. All classes will be held at the Wilmington Center for the Arts (Old Town Hall) across from the Congregational Church on Middlesex Avenue. Beginning Friday, March 7, morning and afternoon watercolor instruction will be offered Fridays from 9:30 a.m. to noon and again from 1 to 3:30 p.m. There will be eight classes and in conformance with the Arts Council policy the fee will be minimal. For registration, or more information call Liz White at 658-2042. Checks should be made payable to Wilmington Council for the Arts. The center is accessible to handicapped individuals.

Elaine C. Ford formerly of Wilmington

Elaine C. (Walsh) Ford, 56, of 9 Cheshire St., Nashua, died Monday morning, Feb. 3, 1997 at St. Joseph Hospital, Nashua, after a lengthy illness. Mrs. Ford was educated in Somerville, Ma. and was a graduate of Somerville High School. She was born in Somerville on March 16, 1940, daughter of the late George E. and Margaret (Green) Walsh. She had lived in Nashua since 1992, and previously in Wilmington. Survivors include her husband of 34 years, Dennis G. Ford of Nashua; three sons, Keith E. Ford and Glen D. Ford, both of Nashua, and Christopher Ford of Burlington; a daughter, Lisa DeLetter of Burlington; four grandchildren, Kristen DeLetter, Amanda DeLetter, and Amber Elj Ford, all of Burlington and Scott E. Ford of North Reading; two sisters and a brother-in-law, Carol Foster and Joan and Anthony Vigilante, all of Somerville and several nieces and nephews. Mrs. Ford was also the sister of the late George Walsh. Funeral services were private. Arrangements were under the direction of the Davis Funeral Home in Nashua. In lieu of flowers donations made in her memory to St. Joseph's Hospital, 172 Kinsley St., Nashua, N.H. 03061 will be appreciated.

Charles L. Giles Naval Veteran of WWII

Charles L. Giles, 73, of Wilmington, died February 13, 1997, at his residence. Born in Beagle, Kansas, the son of the late Clem and the late Bessie (King) Giles. He was a seaman 1st Class in the U.S. Navy during World War II. Prior to retirement he was employed as an optical engineer. Mr. Giles is survived by his wife Jacqueline (Irving); his children Charles E. of IN, William E. of Everett and Brenda Bennett of Concord; his grandchildren David Giles of Wilmington, Dawn Rogers of Belmont, Jennifer Kuhns of Townsend and Kristen and Paul Tabron; his great granddaughter Alyssa Kuhns of Townsend and four brothers as well as his daughter-in-law Linda Giles. You've made the decision to add on to your home, but there are still so many questions. Should you add one room... maybe two... a new dormer... a room off the back... a second floor... an in-law apartment? You have an idea of what you'd like, but you can't quite picture the finished product. You may even have already chosen a builder but, after looking through all his plans, you haven't seen anything that quite matches what you had in mind. Maybe it's time to call a residential designer.

Richard Medeiros, owner of RJM Designs, has been a Wilmington resident for 27 years. Even if you don't know him, you've probably seen some of his design work. Richard's projects include Wilmington's Buzzell Senior Center, the addition to the 4th of July Building and the WCTV studios. That's nice, but you weren't planning on anything quite so large. No problem. Richard will tackle any project... from a 12x12 addition, to a complete new home. And, even though designing is his first love, he is also a licensed builder.

RJM Designs is located at 19 Lloyd Road, in Wilmington. Give him a call at 658-6817, and let him make your dream house a reality.

Automotive Repairs / Snowplowing

619 Rear Main St., Wilmington
(508) 657-7950

If you're like most people, you're not replacing the family car as often as you used to. That may save you the expense of a new car, but having an older car often means more repairs and breakdowns.

J & E Services is a full-service automotive repair shop. Stan Hibbins, the General Manager, opened J & E Services four years ago, but he's been repairing cars for 30 years. At J & E they do the usual tune-ups and oil changes and exhaust systems, plus much more... they'll even rebuild your engine.

"When you take your car into a repair shop, it's easy to spend a lot of money," says Stan. "What gets fixed depends on how much you want to spend. Money is the bottom line."

Stan Hibbins and another mechanic check this car on the lift.

Stan will list and prioritize the repairs that are needed. He won't fix something if you don't want him to, but most of all, he "won't fix what isn't broken."

At J & E, oil changes are $18.95 (plus tax) every day. Their "lifetime exhaust" isn't just a muffler, it's everything from converter to tail pipe. Towing services are available. And, they offer gift certificates - a perfect gift for kids, parents, or anyone with a car!

J & E Services is located at 619 Rear Main St., Wilmington fixed depends on (behind Video Harbor). They're open M, T, Th, F: 8-8; W: 8-6; & Sat: 8-5. After hours, leave a message on the machine!

Gillette Scholarship Dance to be held at Elks Hall

Annie, enjoying the sleigh ride, greeting the stunned residents as they sledged by.

In the pub, residents and employees enjoyed a cool treat of snow cones, keeping warm in heavy skis sweaters and comforted by the thought "if winter comes, can spring be far behind?"

A fundraising dance, sponsored by the friends and family of Daniel S. Gillette Jr. will be held at Elks Hall, South Street, Tewksbury, Friday, Feb. 28. A report last week failed to mention the location of the event.

The public is cordially invited to take part and proceeds will benefit the Daniel S. Gillette, Jr. Scholarship Fund.

The first annual scholarship was awarded June 6, 1996 to TMHS senior Ryan Minor. Ryan's life was one of many that was touched by Dan's kindness, support and friendship. Call 453-0258 or 851-4768 for ticket information.

REBATE
when you switch to a gas heating system

By now, most New Englanders know that natural gas is clean, convenient, dependable and the most economical way to heat your home. Unfortunately, many people still think it's difficult or time-consuming to switch to gas. The truth is, it's wonderfully simple — all it takes is a phone call. As for the new gas heating equipment, you can purchase it directly from the experts at Colonial, or from a heating contractor of your choice. The whole installation process is quick and easy. And because natural gas is piped directly into your home, it's there when you need it.

Maybe that's why over 200,000 people switched to gas last year. And why 9 out of 10 new homes are built with natural gas.

The first step is easier than ever too. Just call to set up an appointment. 800-548-8000

Wilmington police news

Monday, February 10th

A vehicle went off the road at Heffron Asphalt on Salem St. When police arrived at the scene the operator was not there. The operator's brother was there with a tow truck. A complaint for operating after suspension and leaving the scene after property damage was issued Richard L. Cavanaugh, 36 of 1 Colonial Drive, Anover.

A computer and laser printer were stolen from ETM Manufacturing Corp on Concord St. The items were valued at $3200.

Police received several calls about an accident at 600 Main St. Police reported property damage only. Involved in the accident were Edward Checcerini, 4 Harvard Ave., and Dorothy Halliday, 28 Butters Row, both of Wilmington.

Lowell PD requested Wilmington Police to speak to a local resident about his parked car in downtown Lowell.

Police received a call about 2 females in a car with money scattered about. The females were counting money for a convenience store deposit. Police suggested they use better judgement when counting deposits.

Police received a call from a motorist on I-93 stating that the operator of another vehicle threw something out of the window and the object hit his window.

Police arrested Thomas J. Dooling, 33, Melrose for operating under the influence of drugs. The incident took place on Salem St.

Police responded to Ristuccia Exposition Center and disbursed a group of skateboarders.

Tuesday, February 11th
A laptop computer valued about $5,000 was stolen from Visibility Inc., Fordham Rd.

Police responded to an accident at 880 Main St. Property damage only. Tamara Nichols, 23 Lee St., Stoneham; Gene Ouellette, 19 Seaview Ave., Danvers; and David Marshall of 14 Hillside Way, Wilmington were involved.

A former employee at Papa Gino's called the station seeking assistance in obtaining his pay check. Police contacted the on duty manager at the restaurant, who claimed that he would be given his check when he returns his work uniform. Police returned his work uniform and the employee got his check.

Wednesday, February 12th

A caller reported that 2 tires were slashed on his car while parked at Kirkwood Printing on Main St.

Police received a report of a man selling magazines door to door. Police advised the man of the correct procedure and advised him to stop.

Thursday, February 13th

Mark Collins, 39, 1702 Pouliot Place, Wilmington was arrested on a Lawrence Court warrant.

Police got a call about two men getting out of a truck chasing several wild turkeys on Andover St. trying to corner one.

Friday, February 14th

George L. Barbosa, 56, of 27 Roosevelt Rd., Wilmington (also Florida) was arrested for forcible rape. He was held on $200,000 Bail.

Sunday, February 15th

Arthur S. Bruno, 33, 50 Sprague St., Dedham was arrested for OUI, 3rd offense and operating after revocation.

Wilmington senior topics

Fuel funding increase

We have been notified by Community Teamwork in Lowell, the agency that processes all the applications for fuel we complete for our seniors, that all the letters and telephone calls to politicians to raise the funding level for fuel have been successful. Massachusetts has received an increased amount to $7.6 million in emergency benefit levels. The new levels will be:

Level one $435, increased $75; level two, $390, increased $65; level three, $235, increased $40; and level four $140, increased $20. Subsidized levels, level 1, $140, increased $20, level 2, $120 increased $10; level 3 $70, increased $5 and level 4, $50, increased $10.

Check's in the mail

Are you still receiving your monthly Social Security check or SSI check (if you receive one) in the mail? If so, by now you are in the minority. The majority of older Americans have taken advantage or direct deposit and are very happy they did. Why? For several reasons. Social Security benefits are issued on the third of every month. SSI benefits the first of each month. On those days you can write a check or withdraw money from your account, knowing on the third or the first the money is already in your bank account.

With the money already in the bank, you do not have to worry if your check is lost, stolen or delayed due to storms. You do not have to make a special trip to cash your check or have another do it for you. Also, if the weather is bad or you live alone with no family around to get your mail out of the box, in an emergency when you are not at home for an extended length of time.

How to

To have your benefits directly deposited you can contact the Social Security Administration at 1-800-772-1213 or your financial institution. If you call the Social Security you will have to have your personal check, a bank statement and your Social Security number available. It is a little easier to go to the bank you already have an account with, take with you your Social Security or SSI checks. A representative in the bank will help you with the form and sign you up right away. Within 30-60 days your payments will go directly to your bank account.

No more worrying if your check is not in the mailbox. Social Security will send you a letter to tell you when your direct deposit will begin. If you would like more information on direct deposit, call the Social Security number mentioned above.

Shine

Our Shine volunteer will not be at the center on her monthly visit in March. Any senior with questions on insurance coverage during the month, call the center for help at 657-7595 or 658-2258. We have been receiving many complaints from seniors on letters they are receiving from Medicare stating, "Medicare will not cover this claim, because they did not find the hospitalization or test was necessary." If you have received a letter and you are not under an HMO, you should tell your doctor to give you a letter stating the reason why the hospitalization or test was needed to treat any illness he/she may suspect. When you receive the letter have it copied and attach it to a copy of the letter you received from Medicare, mail them back to the Medicare office you received the them from.

March social

The therapeutic social for the month of March will be held on St. Patrick's Day, March 17, at the Hillcrest in Waltham. It will be a bus trip, dinner and show by Irish entertainer Tommy Maken. He will be singing the most popular Irish songs mixed with pantomime. Signup for this social will be on March 4 starting at 10 a.m. A non-refundable deposit of $7 will be required when signing up. At that time you will also select which dinner you would like.

Please do not ask to sign up for another unless it is your spouse. Only Wilmington seniors are allowed to sign up for our socials. All of our socials are paid through the Department of Elder Services budget, $7 is merely a stipend toward the cost of the social.

Defensive let down puts Cats in back seat of tourney

by Jamie Pote

It really couldn't have gotten any more crazier than it did this past week for the Wilmington High School varsity ice hockey team.

Steve Scanlon first saw his squad tie a much improved Dracut team last Wednesday night and inducing so he lost defenseman Mike Berian for a few games with a knee injury. Then on Saturday afternoon, even though their opponent was very weak, he saw his club come out flying and pass better than they ever have, as they trounced Hamilton-Wenham 10-0 to give them their second straight Cape Ann League Title.

Finally on Monday night, Scanlon saw a weaker Methuen squad score seven unanswered goals as the Cats lost 7-5 in the first round of the Newburyport Bank Hockey Tournament.

Anyway one looks at it, if this team wants to do anything in the Division II State Tournament which starts in less than two weeks, they not only should be beating teams like Dracut and Methuen, but they can't be giving up seven goals to any team, nevermind Methuen.

"I thought all three forward lines did well," Scanlon said after Monday's 7-5 loss to Methuen. "But, we had poor defensive zone coverages, we lacked intensity and we didn't capitalize on our chances."

All three lines did play well and for the most part all four defensemen played well - but it seems as if every mistake the team makes, their opponent makes sure they take advantage of it. For instance on Monday, if one player got caught out of position, Methuen made them pay for it, with a subpar goal.

"You can't expect to win a game when you give up seven goals," Scanlon said. "But you should expect to win a game when you score five goals."

Wilmington jumped out to a 1-0 lead against Methuen when John Considine poked in a loose puck for his fifth goal of the season.

Less than three minutes later Methuen tied the game when an uncovered player was left alone in front to one-time a slap shot to the top corner from a pass from the right corner.

Mr. Unselfish is also Mr. Complete

by Jamie Pote

It's very rare in high school hockey to find such a complete player than that of Wilmington High School senior forward/spot defenseman Ryan Haubner.

Two years ago when Wilmington faced Masconomet in the state tournament, Haubner, a sophomore at that time, with little defense experience, played behind the blue line and was Wilmington's best defenseman in that 1-0 loss in overtime.

Haubner could easily be the team's best defenseman on this year's team who has four pretty good defenders. And when he goes back there upon request from head coach Steve Scanlon, the young pupil has no qualms about that, something Scanlon is very impressed about.

"A lot of the times when you ask a high school kid who is a forward to play defense he will either complain about it, or he will go back there and play terrible on purpose just so that you will move him back up to forward," Scanlon said. "But Ryan is not like that - he is very unselfish."

Haubner said he doesn't mind playing defense, just as long as he is helping the team.

"I don't mind it," Haubner said. "I like playing forward a lot more but it doesn't bother me at all to play defense."

Not only would Haubner be the team's best defenseman, but he is the team's most complete player.

"Ryan is one of the most polished skilled players that has played here in a long time," said Scanlon. "He is equally as effective as a defenseman than he is a forward. He thinks really well, he has vision, he has nice skills, he is a smooth skater and he is a very unselfish player."

"I would like to see him pull the trigger more, but I guess he likes playing the role of passing the puck and setting up the plays. He is a finesse player with an excellent shot - it's very accurate and very heavy. He can do it all," Scanlon continued.

Last season, Ryan was third on the team in scoring with 8 goals and 19 assists good for 27 points. This season, however, Ryan's play has jumped several notches ahead as he has scored 14 goals and has assisted on 18 others as he leads the team with 32 points. He scores about every fifth shot that he takes, and if one saw his third goal on Saturday or his goal on Monday - both hard, low slapshots to the far corner - then one realizes just how good of a shot this kid has.

"I'm glad that I'm starting to put the puck in the net more [this season]. Last year I had all of the chances in the world and I never scored," Haubner answered about his performance this season.

On Saturday, Haubner displayed just what he is all about. Not only did he score three goals and add two assists, in the 10-0 win over Hamilton-Wenham, but the first thing he wanted to talk about was how the team clinched its second straight CAL Championship.

"This was a big game for us - we came out flying. We knew that we came out flat last time we played them, so we knew we had to come out flying if we wanted to win the league - and we did," said Haubner, who is looking at several Division III Schools to continue his play at the college level.

Ryan has been with the program since he was in eighth grade, just like the rest of the seven seniors as they were granted waivers from the M.I.A.A. to play for the junior varsity team who needed players to fulfill a roster. And two years behind him is his brother Shawn, another smooth skater who currently is on the second line and both of them have said before that they like playing with each other.

Girls chances end by a basket

by Jamie Pote

Had another basket or two gone in, than the Wilmington High School girls basketball team would be still playing right now.

Instead, the team lost its chances to go into the state tournament when they lost to Hamilton-Wenham, 50-49 in overtime which ended the team's hopes of continuing their play.

"Everyone hustled and it was a real tough game, but the girls were devastated," said head coach Beth Kapnis.

The game was tied at 44 at the end of regulation when Lindsay Bruno hit two freebies with 4.1

seconds left. But Wilmington didn't have enough to overtake Hamilton-Wenham in overtime as four of their players fouled out - 40 total fouls were called on Wilmington alone (I guess I was wrong when I criticized high school girls basketball referees a few years ago) - as two free throws both were missed with 13 seconds left in overtime and H/W went on with the victory.

Meredith Cipriani led the team with 11 points and she was followed by Melissa Mather with eight and Renee Shano and Bruno with seven each.

Tate crowned champ

by Jamie Pote

Led by senior Billy Tate who was crowned the 130-pound champion in the two-day Division III North Sectionals in Hudson, MA., and named Most Outstanding Wrestler of the Tournament, the Wilmington High School wrestling team took fifth in this weekend's tourney. Tate won the championship with a 5-2 decision

Also doing well for the Cats were: Billy Harrison (160), Sean Kerrigan (189) and Mike O'Toole who all took third place finishes. Shawn Sullivan took a fifth at 140, while, Dan Bonnell (119) and Rob Toranni (152) both took seventh place finishes and Paul Cheney

Many locals from Red and Blue will take part in Hockey All-Star game

by Jamie Pote
On Sunday, Feb. 23, the Division I, II and III DCL-MVC Ice Hockey All-Star teams will take on the GBL and CAL I and II teams at Merrimack College beginning at 5:00 p.m.

For Wilmington, they are sending six different players. Dennis Torpey and Jason Dango were voted All-League selections and they and Ryan Haubner and Danny Abbott will be playing in the CAL I - DCL/MVC I game starting at 6:45. Wilmington coaches Steve Scanlon and Chip Bruce will coach the game along with former Wilmington stand-out athlete and current Triton head coach Dan O'Connell.

At 5:00 p.m., Brian Hermann and Mark DiGiovanni will be playing in the CAL II game against the DCL/MVC III team.

As for Tewksbury, their entire first line of Roger Tanguay, Nick Solis, Joe Perna with defensemen Dan Mahoney and Jim Davos as well as goaltender Derek Aldred will all be participating for the DCL/MVC Division I team against the GBL team starting at 8:15. Bob Ware, Tewksbury head coach, will be one of the coaches in that game also.

Lavoie, Howell to play in Shriner's Classic

by Jamie Pote
Two Tewksbury High School football players from the Division II Super Bowl Championship team, will take part in the 19th annual Shriner's High School All-Star Football Classic which will be held on Saturday, June 14th at Boston University's Nickerson Field starting at 7:30 p.m.

Senior running back Tim Lavoie and senior nose tackle (position he will play) Mike Howell will be a part of the North Team who will take on the South Shrine team.

All proceeds, as usual, will go to support of the 19 Shriners Hospitals for Crippled Children and 3 Burns Institutes in North America, where any child may receive quality medical and hospital care at absolutely no cost to the parents, third party payers or the government.

Recent TYSA Meeting agenda

The Tewksbury Youth Skating Association (TYSA) annual meeting was held recently at Tewksbury State Hospital Chapel. The meeting was chaired by Vice President, Ed Doherty as President Harold Bussey was away on business. Treasurer Mario DeMelo was out of the country due to a family illness. All other board members were present. The general membership attendance was 38.

Mark Bristol explained to membership that TYSA will no longer supply blockers, catchers or chest protectors for goalies as of the 1997-98 hockey season for Pee Wees and above.

Ed Doherty informs membership about a new TYSA handbook that will be available to all members in the near future.

Ed Doherty updated rink issues and reviews what progress has been made over the last few years and some of the political roadblocks we have encountered. He informed the membership that the board had decided to put a warrant article in the May Town Meeting to appropriate funds to construct a skating facility. Doherty said that the rink operation will make money and pay for the bond.

Ed Doherty also said that the discussion of the article is in its early stages and that the membership will meet in the near future to further discuss the issue.

Ed Doherty introduced Jim Heller the TYSA CPA. Heller said that the income statements are prepared by Harold Bussey and Mario DeMelo and that he handles tax forms and relevant materials to the IRS, DOR and the Secretary of State.

TYS Meeting

The Tewksbury Youth Skating Association will hold a general meeting for the members on March 7 at 7:30 p.m. at VFW Hall, Tewksbury.

Proposed bylaw changes will be discussed. Members will also be updated on the status of the proposed ice rink. All members are urged to attend this very important meeting.

Anyone interested in taking this year's A.S.A. Softball Umpires' Clinics and exam is urged to call Joe Gallagher at 508-453-3154.

K of C winners

Wilmington based Fr. Croke Council Knights of Columbus, was well represented at the District Free Throw Championships, recently held in Reading, as all eight local shooters represented the town quite well. Three of our boys were winners in their respective age categories.

Stephen Crawford, boys 11; Eric Swiezynski, boys 13; Mike MacNeil, boys 14.

These fine shooters will now compete in the Regional shootouts to be held Saturday March 8 at Bishop Fenwick High School, Peabody. The competition will commence at 8 a.m. Winners at this level will move on to the State Championships.

Congratulations and good luck in the Regionals.

Tewksbury Softball registration

The Tewksbury Girls Softball League will be hold a late registration session Saturday, Feb. 22 (new date) from 11:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. in the High School Gym Hallway. Please take a birth certificate to registration.

Girls six years old by April 30 to eight years old by August 31 will be eligible for the Clinic division; the fee will be $25. The fee for Junior Division, ages 9-11; Intermediate Division, ages 12-14 and Senior Division ages 15-18 is $50. Family maximum is $100.

Board members will also be available at the high school gym Sunday, Feb. 23 and Sun., Mar. 2 from 5 to 7 p.m. to take registrations. Contact Bev Thompson, 8951-6642 or Mark Smolinsky, 851-4763 with questions.

Tewksbury Comm. Ed. programs

Tewksbury's Community Education Program is offering a men's basketball league and an indoor soccer program. Both programs will begin the week of February 24 at Tewksbury Memorial High School gym. Basketball is on Monday nights; soccer on Wednesdays, both at 7.

GET RICH QUICK WITH INVESTMENT REAL ESTATE

You see them on cable TV, sitting around a swimming pool, sharing stories about how they got rich quick by buying valuable real estate for give-away prices. They took a course on how to invest in real estate and become millionaires over night with nothing down and no credit hassles from mortgage lenders. The course worked for them, and they say it will work for you, too. If all this sounds too good to be true—it is! These "get-rich-quick" courses and schemes are being investigated by consumer fraud agencies around the country. This does not mean that you can't become a millionaire by investing "get-rich-quick" real estate. But investing in real estate requires one important thing from you—an investment of cash. You can't build an empire overnight, but you can do very well over the long term by selecting property in a good location that is priced well, and which can provide a reasonable cash flow.

Paw prints provide tracks of fun

by Ed Larkin

The winter months offer so many great opportunities to enjoy the outdoors. If you are involved in one activity, it is just as easy to combine another interest simply by observing the ground you walk on. Patient observation helps unlock the mystery of the outdoor environment. During the winter, animals leave clues in their tracks. The tracker uses clues to determine species, size, sex, and current diet of the local animal populace.

Learning to track the local animal population is as easy as stepping into your backyard. By following tracks, you learn the basic habits of the critter you are tracking. Tracking and locating animals in their natural range provides understanding unlike any book or television program.

Tracking can either be passive or active. Passive tracking takes place while participating in other activities, such as snowshoeing or cross country skiing. You see something along the trail and stop to check it out.

Active tracking is picking a species and finding it by tracking its print. The active tracker is trying to find and observe the creature to fully understand patterns of behavior. Your goals determine how active you choose to follow a track. If you find an unusual print or a fresh track, you may wish to pursue.

A good pocket book with clear illustrations of prints is the best way to get started. Once you compare and follow a track, you will be hooked when you identify what you are tracking. A book called Track Finder by Dorcas Miller is an excellent guide that fits easily in the pocket of a day pack. You can find it at most outdoor specialty shops or have your favorite bookstore order it for you.

Some of the terms you should be familiar with are as follows: Print, impression made by one foot. Track, a series of prints. Straddle, the width of the track. Stride, the distance between prints of the walking animal. Leap, the distance between sets of four prints made by a hopping or bounding animal. creature. The Track shows direction and whether the animal is feeding or traveling. The Straddle gives an indication of size. The Stride tells whether the animal is strolling or running. The Leap also identifies and helps determine the size of the critter.

For folks new to tracking, the freshness of tracks is often misleading. For example, tracks made in dry and dusty earth days earlier may look as fresh as the day they were made during good weather. The same track made only hours before during a snow or rain storm may look old and weathered.

To help while tracking, look for other signs such as fresh dung, torn up patches of fresh snow, or hair and claw marks. Often times animals fall into a pattern of movement. See if you can notice a pattern and if you do, you have just up your chances of catching them in action.

Weather, time of year, and location all affect animal movement. Once you select a creature to track, take the time and learn its characteristics. Basic knowledge of species behavior and location will make it much easier to track the animal. This also gives you a wonderful chance to compare notes on other people's observations.

Once you locate and follow your track, be observant for movement. If you are lucky enough to catch up with the creature making the tracks, step back and enjoy the best show on earth. Be careful not to disturb or harass them in their home. If you are hunting, make sure of identification and that you have a safe shot.

Understanding habits by tracking provides the hiker, naturalist, and hunter with the knowledge to determine relative health as well as location of a given species. After watching an Snowshoe Hare bound from a favorite hiding place or a River Otter playing along a bank from a track you followed, I think you will agree this is truly a unique way to spend a day.

Annual fishing derby

Each year for the past 13 years I meet with a group of my fishing friends and I go ice fishing on Lake Winnepesaukee. The Meredith, New Hampshire Rotary Club runs this great event. Each year they raise thousands of dollars prize board but we caught a goodness of fish and released most of them. As usual we took part in the good life of eating and drinking everything in sight. Everyone brought along something mouth watering. Lots of great game and non-game recipes exchanged hands.

The fishing derby is a time for all of us to catch up and discuss all that is happening in our busy lives. It is also another example of the generosity of sportsmen giving back to the community. I hope you have at least one annual gathering with old friends. It is good to share life's many experiences with good buddies.

WHS Boys and Girls Track

by Jamie Pote

The Wilmington High School boys track team continued its fine indoor season when it tied North Andover last Wednesday at 43 all.

Said captain Mike Sweet, "The boys team put forth a great effort against a starong North Andover team. There were many personal bests and several runners excelled in events they don't usually compete in."

With it's 4-3-1 record, the boys team had many strong efforts against NA. Here are the results:

50 yd: P.J. Heffernan, 1st; David LeCesse, 3rd.

300 yd: Pete Otovic, 1st; Chris Kilburn, 3rd.

600 yd: Dan Sweet, 1st; Brian McCarthy, 2nd; Rob Murphy, 3rd.

1000 yd: Jeremy Rufo, 2nd; Greg Monteiro, 3rd.

1 Mile: Jason Crescenzo 2nd.

2 Mile: Rory Ballou, 2nd.

Shot Put: Keith McLaren, 1st; Chris Raetano, 3rd.

High Jump: Paul Fugere, 3rd.

Relay: Otovic, Rufo, Kilburn and Heffernan, 1st at 3:52.85.

Girls end season

The girls team finished its season with a 66-20 loss to NA last Wednesday which put their record at 3-5.

Here are the results of the NA Meet:

50 yd: Laura Winn, 1st.

300 yd: Lynn Hurley, 3rd.

600 yd: Tricia Kane, 2nd.

2 Mile: Cheryl LeCesse, 3rd.

Hurdles: Sarah Lund, 1st; Christine Fowle, 3rd.

Shot Put: Kristen Peach, 2nd; Stacy Kendall, 3rd.

* Peach, Kane, Winn and the girls 4x400 relay team will compete in the states this coming weekend at the Reggie Lewis Center in Roxbury.

Raptors doing well

The Wilmington indoor soccer team, the Raptors, had an incredible "come from behind" victory over Arlington recently. The score was 4-0 in favor of Arlington and then the Raptors showed them what they could do!

With tremendous hustling and offensive moves the score started creeping up for the Raptors. With the fans cheering Brendan DeMango, James Cuoco, Derek Hanson, Richard Barry (2), C.J. Jeannette (s) and Mark Walsh (2) all scored amazing goals. The defensive moves of John Lipiello and Cliff Hall were also on the mark helping the "Razmataz" moves of goalies Ben Barrasso, Chris Azevedo, D.J. Jeannette and James Cuoco. The final score was Wilmington Raptor 9 and Arlington 5.

Out on the injury list were Michael Johnson and Matt Patalano.

In the Raptors game with Tri-City, the Raptors were in control from the first kick. Goalies Derek Hanson, Michael Johnson, C.J. Jeannette and Richard Barry were so good in the net that Tri-City was only able to score two goals. There was tremendous dribbling by John Lippello and offensive moves by all the players who that the Raptors scored 17 goals.

The awesome goals were scored by Michael Johnson, Matt Patalano, Chris Azevedo, Richard Barry (5), Jimmy Downs (2), Ben Barasso (2), Mark Walsh (2) and Derek Hanson (3). The final score was Wilmington Raptors 17 and Tri-City 2.

Out on the injury list was Brendan DeMango, Cliff Hall and James Cuoco.

ARE YOU PROTECTED?

by Edward H. Wilkens

IF FIRE STRIKES

QUESTION: What can a family do in advance to protect against loss of life in case of home fire?

ANSWER: Make a sketch of the layout of each floor, showing windows, doors, and stairways. Because most fires start at night when the family is asleep, ask your wife and kids what they'd do if the stairway was blocked by heavy smoke or flames. If you have an elderly member of the family living with you — discuss how he or she could be helped to safety.

Work out two escape routes from each room. For upper level bedrooms, you may want to keep some type of ladder handy. Fire extinguishers should be within easy reach. Smoke detectors are a must.

YOU CAN SAVE lives if you have a plan and your family knows what to do in case of a house fire.

Less than a minute thereafter, Kevin Carroll netted his fifth goal of the season, when he too pounced on a loose puck and Wilmington led 2-1 with just less than six minutes into the game.

With 7:40 left in the first period, Methuen again tied the game up when Craig Parlato walked out of the right corner and slid the puck into the far corner of the net.

However, with 2:21 left to go in the crazy first period, Dennis Torpey's slapshot from the left circle made it 3-2 in favor of the Cats as that was Torpey's 19th goal of the season.

The second period was all Methuen ... well, the first 14 minutes was. Tom Beaulieu scored his second and third goals of the game in the second period, while assisting on another as Methuen outscored Wilmington 3-1 in the second period.

Beaulieu scored his second goal, and first of the second period, when he went around a Wilmington defenseman and he scored on a short side opening on a slap shot. Inbetween that, Phil Naroian pounced on a Jason Dango rebound and Methuen led 4-3. Beaulieu made it 5-3 when he roofed a shot over Dango's head as the netminder was down on the ice.

Wilmington came right back as Ryan Haubner's huge blast from the left circle, made it a one-goal game as Methuen led 5-4 after two periods of play.

Just 45 seconds into the third period, Methuen pretty much nailed the door shut as Dan Kobrenski kicked in a loose puck (the referees didn't see it) and Methuen again was up by two goals.

Again, Wilmington came back. Just 41 seconds later, Dan Abbott scored on a wrist shot through the five-hole with helpers from Shawn Haubner and Mark DiGiovanni and once again Wilmington was back in the game. Methuen returned the favor with a goal just like Abbott's with 7:50 left and that was the game, Methuen won 7-5. Wilmington will now play Amesbury, a team they have already beaten before, on Thursday night at 6:00 in the consolation match of the Fournier Division in the tournament at the Graf Arena in Newburyport.

Cats blank Generals

On Saturday, the Cats defeated Hamilton-Wenham 10-0 - which gave them their second straight CAL Championship - in front of the home crowd at the Ristuccia Exposition Center.

Dennis Torpey and Ryan Haubner both scored hatricks, while, Mark DiGiovanni added two and John Considine and Kevin Carroll netted the others. Ryan Haubner, John Considine and Brian Hermann each had two assists in the shellacking.

Dango made six saves for his fourth shutout of the season, but he gave way to eighth grader Jim McGonagle who made five saves in the entire third period.

Cats tie Dracut

Last Wednesday night, the Cats couldn't find the net as much as they did on Saturday as they ran into a solid team from Dracut. Dracut, not that great of skaters, but they played great positional hockey, they passed well and their defensemen were very stingy as that's the reason why Dennis Torpey was the lone Cats player to score a goal.

Torpey scored his 100th career point on the power play with helpers from Ryan Haubner and Brian Farkas. Dango made 14 saves as the Cats outshot Dracut 23-15.

Redmen match up changed

This Saturday's match-up against highly touted Tewksbury has been changed from 8:00 to noon at the Janas Rink. This game should really give Wilmington a sense of where they are, as Tewksbury is a very quick, explosive team with two very tough defensemen. However, Wilmington is also very quick and if they play the way they are capable of, they could make this a ball game to remember.

Said Tewksbury first year head coach Bob Ware, "I'm really looking forward to the game. I have the most respect for Steve Scanlon. It should be a lot of fun."

rounded it out at 112 with a eight place finish.

Last Wednesday, the Cats barely lost to Haverhill with four of its starters out with various injuries. Jamie Campbell, Mike Shelley, O'Toole and Adam Vogel all didn't wrestle as the Cats could have used them as they lost 46-36.

Wilmington was down 30-12 through the first seven matches as Billy Tate and Paul Cheney both pinned their opponents, while, Brian Grillo, Bonnell, Nick Miceli and Ryan Clancy all lost their matches. Shawn Sullivan and Rob Torrani closed the lead to 30-24 as they both pinned their opponents and Harrison tied it at 30 with a forfeit win. Dave DeAmato, Kerrigan and Mike Gennetti followed all with losses, before Brian Shea wrapped it up with a pin just ten seconds into the second period.

Boys Basketball team enjoys entire team effort win

by Jamie Pote

For the first time in a while, instead of having just two players carry the load, the Wilmington High School boys basketball team enjoyed their twelfth win of the season last Friday night when the entire team chipped in.

The Cats defeated Hamilton-Wenham 58-52 as ten of its twelve players that played scored at least one point at the Cushing Gymnasium.

Wilmington is now 12-7 overall as they will wrap up their regular season Wednesday night with a home contest against Lawrence, before entering the Division III State Tournament for the third season in a row.

Said head coach Jim McCune about the victory on Friday, "I was glad that all the seniors got in and contributed. Now if we win on Wednesday we will have the same amount of wins we had last year (13)."

Wilmington lead by four points at 25-21 at the break as Eric Clancy led the team with 11 points. But it was all Wilmington in the second half as they started it with an 11-0 run and the Cats lead stayed between 8-12 the rest of the way until H/W heaved a last second three-pointer to close it at an eight point edge.

Scott Swiezynski was red hot in the second half as he scored 14 of his 17 points as he went 6-for-11 from the floor (he also had 14 boards). Clancy was second with 13 points and he was followed by Phil Bates with eight, Eric McKenna with seven (including an awesome complete turnaround lay-up), Brian Thresher with four, Paul Tentindo and Chris DiJulia with two each and finally, Dave McLaughlin and Greg Dorothy rounded out the scoring with a freebie each.

"We have to play with some intensity if we want to win games and that's what we did tonight," McCune said. "I'm kind of getting used to [the team getting off to slow starts], but they responded well tonight."

Wilmington Box Score

Swiezynski 7-15 3-5 17; Clancy 4-18 3-4 13; Bates 1-4 6-6 8;

McKenna 3-4 1-2 7; Thresher 1-2 2-4 4; T. Gillis 1-4 1-2 3; Tentindo 0-2 2-4 2; DiJulia 1-5 0-0 2; McLaughlin 0-1 0-0 1; Dorothy 0-2 1-5 1; Ingram 0-0 0-0 0; O'Toole 0-0 0-0 0. Totals: 18-57 20-33 58.

Three-point goals-- Clancy 2. Rebounds-- Wilmington 36 (Swiezynski 14, Bates 6, Dorothy 4).

Anyhow, Ryan has many fine features, like Scanlon said previously, which has earned him his second straight CAL All-Star vote. He is a smooth, yet good skater, he has soft hands, a terrific shot, he is versatile as he can both anywhere, he is the team's leader on the power play, the team's leading point getter and he and Dennis Torpey not only play very well together, but those two are two of the reasons why the team has killed off 92 percent of their penalties.

"I think we react really well, we are aggressive, yet, we stay disciplined. You don't have time to think, you just do things and that's why I think we are effective," Haubner said.

Ryan said he doesn't think there will be pressure on him, Torpey or the rest of the team when the state tournament comes. He just thinks that the team must realize what's at stake.

"As long as we play well we should do fine. Everyone is more focused this year. We know we will make things happen just as long as we play well. But I don't think it's pressure," Haubner said.

Whether or not this team goes all the way or one and out in the state tournament, one thing is for sure that this program would not be where it is today without Ryan Haubner.

Mite B's topple Chelmsford

Wilmington 5 Chelmsford 3

The Wilmington Mite B Team, (sponsored by the Wilmington Arena Authority) continued their winning ways in the Dual State League, beating the Chelmsford Mite B's by the score of 5-3.

The win was especially nice because the last time these two teams met it was the only Dual State loss for the Wildcats, and it put them back in first place.

The scoring started early with Danny Tobin centering a pass to Keith Irwin camped out front to slam it home. Eric Svensson played in net for Wilmington making big saves throughout the game.

Wilmington went on two power plays early and although they didn't get a goal, some great fore-checking from Shane Foley and and Steenbruggen as they were able to keep the play in the Chelmsford end.

Chelmsford got a tying goal on a fluke, then the go ahead with just 15 seconds left in the first.

The second started with a good end to end rush by Tobin as he was tripped just before he got the shot off. The referee missed the call as it appeared to be a sure penalty shot opportunity. Nicholas Yoe-melakis was finally able to tie it up for Wilmington on a feed from Steven Stokes.

Playing solid defense for the cats was Chris Stafford, Mike Earls and Brad Fraser who made several good clearing plays to keep the puck out of the zone. Again Svensson made some pretty big saves to keep the game tied at two at the end of two.

The third started much like the first two periods with Wilmington breaking the tie when Stokes made a centering pass to Robby MacKinnon as he shot it in the net, it trickled past the goalie and Derek Sullivan was right there to poke it in to make sure it was over the goal line.

A minute later Chelmsford was right back to tie it up again on a breakaway the play remained in the neutral zone till Tobin sent Stokes in on a feed from center ice, broke in and passed it back to Tobin for the score with two minutes left Chelmsford went on the power play and Stokes made a good breakup at his own blue line and took it in for a shorthanded goal.

With 30 seconds left on the first penalty Wilmington was called again but Svensson managed to hold off the five on three man advantage for the win.

The Wildcats lost a Valley League game earlier in the day to a good N.H. East A Team. Scoring for Wilmington was Keith Irwin hitting in his own rebound; David Rizzo on a feed from Zachary Church and Danny Tobin on a fine individual effort.

Look for the results of the George T. Ernest Mite Invitational Tournament to be held at the Janice Rink in Lowell, in next week's paper.

PROPOSED: Town of Tewksbury, MA

The undersigned is submitting an Environmental Notification Form ("ENF") to the Secretary of Environmental Affairs on or before February 14, 1997.

This will initiate review of the above project pursuant to the Massachusetts Environmental Policy Act ("MEPA"), G.L.c.30, sec. 61, 62-62H. Copies of the ENF may be obtained from:

Laura E. Uhrich, CDM Inc., 10 Cambridge Center, Cambridge MA 02142 (617) 252-8000. Copies of the ENF are also being sent to the Conservation Commission and Planning Board of Tewksbury, where they may be inspected.

The Secretary of Environmental Affairs will publish notice of the ENF in the Environmental Monitor, will receive public comments on the project for twenty days, and will then decide, within 10 days, if an Environmental Impact Report is needed. A site visit and consultation session on the project may also be scheduled. All persons wishing to comment on the project, or to be notified of a site visit or consultation session, should write to the Secretary of Environmental Affairs, 100 Cambridge Street, Boston, Massachusetts 02202, Attention: MEPA Unit, referencing the above project.

NOTICE OF MORTGAGEE'S SALE OF REAL ESTATE

By virtue and in execution of the Power of Sale contained in a certain mortgage given by Ralph Sanchez and Marie R. Sanchez to Comfed Savings Bank, dated May 1, 1986 and registered with the Middlesex County (Northern District) Registry District of the Land Court as Document No. 109714 as noted on Certificate of Title No. 27110, of which mortgage Norwest Mortgage, Inc. is the present holder by assignment, for breach of the conditions of said mortgage and for the purpose of foreclosing, the same will be sold at Public Auction at 1:00 p.m. on March 5, 1997, on the mortgaged premises located at 69 Valley Road, Tewksbury, Middlesex County, Massachusetts, all and singular the premises described in said mortgage.

To Wit:
That certain parcel of land situated in Tewksbury in the County of Middlesex and Commonwealth of Massachusetts, bounded and described as follows:

SOUTHWESTERLY by Valley Road, 125 feet;

NORTHWESTERLY by land of the grantor's 100 feet;

NORTHEASTERLY by land n/f of Dennis M. Boone et al and Vi Hi Realty Trust, 125 feet;

SOUTHEASTERLY by land n/f of Gerald H. Way, et al, 100 feet.

All of said boundaries are determined by the Land Court to be located as shown on plan 342648, drawn by Robert P. Morris, Registered Land Surveyor, dated May 12, 1985 filed in the Land Registration Office, and said land is shown as Lot 3 on said plan. With certificate 26545.

For mortgagors' title see deed registered with Middlesex County (Northern District) Registry District of the Land Court as Document No. 109713 on Certificate of Title No. 27110.

These premises will be sold and conveyed subject to and with the benefit of all rights, rights of way, restrictions, easements, covenants, liens or claims in the nature of liens, improvements, public assessments, any and all unpaid taxes, tax titles, tax liens, water and sewer liens and any other municipal assessments or liens or existing encumbrances of record which are in force and are applicable, having priority over said mortgage, whether or not reference to such restrictions, easements, improvements, liens or encumbrances is made in the deed.

TERMS OF SALE:

A deposit of Five Thousand ($5,000.00) Dollars by certified or bank check will be required to be paid by the purchaser at the time and place of sale. The balance is to be paid by certified or bank check at Harmon Law Offices, P.C., 27 Needham Street, P.O. Box 610389, Newton Highlands, Massachusetts 02161-0389, within thirty (30) days from the date of sale. Deed will be provided to purchaser for recording upon receipt in full of the purchase price.

Other terms, if any, to be announced at the sale.

THE HIKER MONUMENT is a memorial to the veterans of the Spanish American War. Originally crafted in Minnesota, there are 3 statues in area towns including Woburn, Malden and the statue pictured above in Wakefield.

Where's this statue located?

Do you know him?

By DOUG WOOD-BOYLE

One is in Malden constantly guarding the gateway to the Western side of the city.

Another keeps its eternal vigil on the courthouse and police station in downtown Woburn and a third provides protection and a central focal point for the citizens of Wakefield.

These are just three of the many "Hiker Monuments" throughout New England that pay homage to the young men of the country that lost their lives in the Spanish American War of 1898. They are all dressed in the broad-brimmed hats and fatigues and outfitted with the rifles, canteens and leggings that the soldiers of the war were issued before being sent to such foreign lands as Cuba, the Philippines and Puerto Rico in an attempt to free those colonies from the oppression of their Spanish masters.

According to research by David Watts, Jr., an historian and cinematographer from Wakefield, Theodora Kitson was commissioned to create the statue by the University of Minnesota.

During research of an upcoming cable television documentary on the bronze sculpture, Watts discovered that the Hiker has traversed the Midwest and Northeast in such places as: Chicago, IL; Cohoes, NY; Dayton, OH; Fitchburg, Haverhill; Kalamazoo, MI; Lynn; Portland, ME; Providence, RI; Schenectady, NY; Syracuse, NY; Toledo, OH; and Troy, NY. In all over 50 colleges and communities have a copy of the statue.

The sad part is that Kitson, the wife of Henry Hudson Kitson was forced to relinquish ownership of the piece to the Gorham Manufacturing Co. of Providence to pay off her over due accounts with that company's bronze division.

According to Watt's research, Kitson was responsible for over 50 publicly displayed pieces of sculpture. These included General Kosciuszko most prominently displayed in Boston Common and the Minuteman of '76 in Framingham.

Through records found by Watts at Reading Public Library and the American Art Office archives (the Boston branch of the Smithsonian Institute of Art) Watts discovered that Kitson was born in Brookline in 1871 and studied under her future husband at the age of 15.

Ironically, Gorham sent The Hiker back to Kitson to have her rework the piece into the Doughboy representing the soldiers of World War I. The new work was completed in 1924.

Watt's history shows that Kitson did not always receive full credit for her pieces. When the idea of using the statue as a memorial was presented to Wakefield's Annual Town Meeting on March 8, 1926, the body of government was told that the statue was done by a Theodore Kitson. In an interview, Watts notes that other pieces done by the female artist were sold under her more famous husband's name.

According to Watts, this was a common practice for many female artists of the time.

"Women artists of the late nineteenth century and late into the twentieth century had to take male names," Watts said.

Watts, who has done commercial film work became interested in researching the Hiker after attending a workshop on "Filmstyle Videos" at WCAT the local cable access studio in Wakefield.

Because of the class he came up with the idea of combining two of his favorite past-times, history and sculpture, into the making of a half-hour documentary.

"Hopefully, people will have

Folks, we were fortunate to have had so many wonderful ballrooms where big name bands with their singers afforded us many wonderful evenings of dancing. Some of the bands that I remember were, Glen Miller, Harry James, Tommy and Jimmy Dorsey, Woody Herman, Benny Goodman, Sammy Kaye, Freddy Martin, Russ Morgan, Charlie Bennett, Les Brown, Louis Prima, and Vaughn Murrow.

Some of the singers with these bands were, Helen O'Connell, Bob Ebbeler, Jo Stafford, Helen Forest, Bing Crosby, Perry Como, "Ole Blue Eyes" Frank Sinatra, Frances Langford, Dinah Shore, The Mills Brothers, The Ink Spots, the Andrew Sisters and many others.

I remember Kathy shouting to me, "where in the heck did you learn to dance?" "I'll have you know," I exclaimed, "dancing is in my blood." "Well," she told me, "you must have poor circulation because it hasn't reached your feet yet!"

I know that George Gould isn't in his second childhood because he hasn't gone through his first one yet.

Tony Stack shook Cardinal Law's hand and Tony's whole right side went sober.

When Angelo Quaganti's lovely daughter Janet married Bill Leuci, Angelo said to me, "Chipper, I may be losing a daughter but, I'm gaining a BATHROOM."

Paul Travers reminds me of Sam Walter Foss who said, "Let me live in my house by the side of the road and be a friend of man."

Paul's brother Richie is a great golfer. He missed a HOLE-IN-ONE by ten strokes yesterday.

Folks please don't lend any money to your relatives, it causes AMNESIA.

An apprentice barber nicked Frank Hogan's face a few times then asked, "shall I wrap your face with a towel?" "yes, please do and I'll carry it home under my arm."

Some politicians didn't invent crime-they just improved on it.

I remember when John MacCurtin invited me to speak at a Kiwanis luncheon at Reardon's. After telling some of the jokes, puns and quips I write

Songs and singers at Linden Tree

The Linden Tree Coffeehouse will present songs and singers to warm up a winters night on Saturday, February 22 at 8pm. There will be three talented singer-songwriters Gail Rundlett, Hunter Moor, and Bernice

Lewis each with a set of songs to make you think, make you laugh, and make you glad you ventured down to the friendly atmosphere of the Linden Tree. Gail Rundlett yearly sets at The Linden Tree leave everyone humming her songs whether traditional music accompanied with her expressive dulcimer and honeyed vocals or more contemporary songs. She has a wonderful way to choose great songs and to then interpret them with her own great way.

Coming North is one of Nashville's most precise and eloquent performing songwriters, Hunter Moore. As a writer his songs have been recorded by Ricky Skaggs, Alabama, Kathy Mattea, and others. As a performer he has released two albums, DEPARTURE and DELTA MOON, both of which have received airplay throughout the US and abroad.

Bernice Lewis, snowed in during December's Holiday Potpourri, will now present her songs that will reach into the hearts of the audience and bring them to the edge of their seats. Her latest CD ISLE OF SPIRIT offers a staggering range of material, from a bouncy opener to a lovely closing ballad with western swing, more ballads, and a torch number featuring Bernice's voice and a piano.

The Linden Tree Coffeehouse is open to folks of all ages who appreciate live acoustic music. Tickets are $8 and are available at the door. The coffeehouse is located in the social hall of the Unitarian-Universalist Church, 326 Main Street, Wakefield. The hall is handicapped accessible and smoke-free. Home made baked goods are available along with hot coffee, tea, and spiced cider.

Winter Weeds and Tracks

Sunday, March 2, 1-3pm

Many plant parts persist through the winter and have some surprisingly beautiful forms. Evidence of animal activity can be seen in nibblings and tracks in the snow or mud. Tim Sileo will lead this easy hike in the South Reservoir area to identify whatever we encounter. Meet at the Bellevue Pond parking lot on South Border Road in Medford. Heavy rain or heavy snow cancels.

Office development proposed

"It was initially targeted last summer as a possible mixed-use development," notes the Burlington edition of the "Daily Times Chronicle."

"Since then, however, one user has shown interest in the former Houghton Mifflin site off South Bedford Street, and the Planning Board at its last meeting voted unanimously to continue the public hearing on special permit and site plan applications for the new location."

"The 236,000-square-foot Houghton Mifflin building would be razed, and in its stead would be 180,000 square feet of office space."

"Kent Gonzales, project manager for the Gutierrez Co. (the applicant for the site is Wayside Realty Trust), would not reveal who will occupy the new building, only indicating it would be a software company."

"It was formerly (targeted for) a PDD (Planned Development District of 375,000 square feet)," said former attorney James Melchionna, representing Wayside Realty Trust. "But we have one user for this building who would like us to build a 180,000-square-foot office building."

"Dan Clarey, an engineer with the firm of Vanasse Hangen Brustlin, retained by Wayside Realty Trust, explained there would be a first phase to the project in which a 120,000-square-foot office building would be built.

"Clarey said the company hopes it could be occupying the premises by next year at this time, while having the option to build 60,000 more square feet."

"The land is currently zoned General Industrial (IG). A special permit is being sought to increase the maximum parking space requirements. No rezoning is required...."

an understanding of what this hunk of bronze is all about," Watts said.

His history also tells of the rigors and troubles that faced the young men that went off to fight the war memorialized by the battle cry "Remember the Maine" the call to arms after the United States Navy battleship was sunk in Havana, Cuba's Harbor and by the pictured scenes of then Lieutenant Colonel Theodore Roosevelt and his troop of Rough Riders storming San Juan Hill.

Watt's history follows the Richardson Light Guard of Wakefield as they went through the War as Company A of the Sixth Regiment of the Second Corps.

The troop was made up of 84 volunteers from Wakefield. At the end of the war the surviving veterans came back to a hero's welcome. However, they had stories to tell of comrades who died almost as much from diseases such as Typhoid and Malaria as they did from the enemy bullets that were fired.

The United States as a country had some loss of reputation as the war was seen by other countries as one that more served the colonization needs of the country than any other reason.

The truth of the war will never be known. However, over one million men from the United States answered the call by President William McKinley for 200,000 volunteers to beef up the 25,000 men that were in the country's armed forces.

During his speech at the dedication of the Wakefield monument, Colonel Edward J. Gihon, commander of the Richardson Light Guard, at the end of the war, said: "The Spanish-American War was not a great war in duration, in the number of men called to the colors or in the number of men sacrificed, but it was a conflict that finally healed the old wounds of the North and the South."

"It was a conflict that discovered the cause and prevention of Yellow Fever, making possible the building of the Panama Canal with a minimum loss of life due to disease. It was a war that made the United States be recognized as a world power."

"Were it not for the lessons learned from the country's criminal unpreparedness in 1898 we might not have been able to enter the World War in 1917..."

Watts and a volunteer force of people are in the preparatory stage of the film process at this time. The video taping is set to start in the Spring and it is hoped that the completed piece will be ready by October 12, the seventy first anniversary of the Nursing scholarship available

Again this year, the Middlesex East District Medical Society Auxiliary is offering scholarships to those students interested in a nursing program and who reside in and attend high school in this area. Those students enrolled in full time nursing programs may apply.

The Middlesex East District Medical Society Auxiliary is a group interested in community service and health education. Since 1950, they have been awarding nursing scholarships, and are pleased to be able to carry on the tradition this year. They will be awarding several scholarships of $500 or $750. Both current students and beginning students are eligible.

Recipients must be permanent residents of one of the following towns: Burlington, Melrose, Reading, North Reading, Stoneham, Wakefield, Lynnfield, Wilmington, Winchester or Woburn. Awards will be based on a combination of academic achievement, community service and need.

Applications may be obtained from the guidance department of any of the high schools in the towns listed above. The deadline for application is April 15.

This weekend Pet Junction Grand Opening

The revival of Downtown Reading continues this week with the Grand Opening of Pet Junction at 668 Main St. in the square. Festivities are planned for Saturday and Sunday, the 22nd and 23rd with a 20% discount off all pet supplies.

Pet Junction will be a retail pet store and is owned by the husband/wife team of Roger and Sandy Carter. They will offer various pets, supplies and services but will specialize in personalized service for small animals, tropical fish, reptiles and birds plus a large selection of pet supplies and pet food.

Their goal is to earn a reputation as the best local source for companion animals, pet supplies and pet food.

On Saturday veterinarian Dr. Howard Hutchins will be available from 1:00 to 3:00 pm as well as bird expert Gordon Anderson on Sunday from 1:00 to 3:00 pm with his assortment of exotic birds.

Persons who stop by to see the spacious new store can sign-up to win a 10 gallon Aquarium Starter Kit.

Pet Junction will feature a large variety of healthy livestock and will have long store hours from 9:00 am to 7:00 pm daily from Monday thru Saturday with Sunday hours from 12:00 to 5:00 pm.

To get to Pet Junction from Route 128 take the Route 28 north exit two miles to Reading Square and it is located on the left in the center between CVS and Papa Gino's.

The Carters will accept Visa and Mastercard as well as personal checks.

With a store motto of "Where Pets Meet Their Family", Pet Junction promises to be a friendly spot with lots of service and an abundance of animals and pet supplies and goods.

Middlesex East Sports Athletes & Activities

BY PAUL FEELY

The rosters for the 19th Annual Shriners High School All-Star Football Classic, which will be held on Saturday, June 14, at 7:30 pm at Boston University's Nickerson Field, have been announced.

Local players on the North team include Reading's Delsin Grubbs, Excell Walker, and Matt Noonan, Wakefield's Chris D'Arcangelo, and Tewksbury's Tim Lavoie and Mike Howell.

All proceeds from the game will support the 19 Shriners Hospitals for Crippled Children and three Burns Institutes in North America, where any child may receive quality medical and hospital care at absolutely no cost to the parents, third-party payers or the government.

SPORTS SHORTS

MIDDLESEX EAST SPORTS WEEKLY TRIVIA QUESTION: This question deals with a fairly recent event, but if you read the sports pages you will probably be able to answer it: What rookie pitcher recently announced that he has set his sights this season on winning the Cy Young award? Answer appears elsewhere in this column.

Tewksbury's KIMBERLY ANNE SANFORD, a sophomore at UMass-Lowell, was recently selected as a member of the River Hawks varsity cheerleading squad. The cheerleaders perform at all home games for the school's hockey team. Sanford, a former competitive figure skater, was also a starter in doubles play this fall for the Lady River Hawks tennis team.

Wakefield's MARC SALS-MAN scored a power play goal for the UMass-Lowell men's ice hockey team in a 6-4 loss to UMass-Amherst recently.

Need some clues to help out with the above-mentioned trivia question? He has yet to throw a single pitch in either the American or National Leagues, but he already feels that the most coveted award a pitcher can receive is within his grasp.

Woburn's Stacey Rosa, a senior guard for the Nichols College women's basketball team, recently had a career day against Eastern Nazarene College. Rosa recorded the first triple-double of her career, with 16 points, 10 assists and 10 steals. She scored 19 points as well during a recent loss to Colby-Sawyer College. For these performances, she was selected to the Worcester Area College Basketball Association's Weekly Honor Roll. She is currently averaging 7.1 points, 4.2 rebounds, 3.4 assists and 2.3 steals a game.

During the recent Boston University Invitational, junior All-American LIAM GOVOTES of Burlington placed in the 400 meter event with a time of 48.58 while running for the UMass-Lowell indoor track team.

Malden Catholic Alumni Hockey will be holding its annual tournament on Saturday, March 15 at the MDC Ice Skating Rink in Medford. The format will be the usual odd vs. even graduation years. The entry fee will be $40, which includes ice time and a buffet. Those interested should respond by March 1. Call 617-322-8377 for more details.

Reading's Jeff Boucher, a junior forward for the Nichols College men's ice hockey team, is currently tied for second place on the team in goals with seven, and is fourth in points with 11. Playing for the same team, Wakefield's Pat Nigro made 20 saves in 36 minutes against Tufts University. His record is currently 3-6-3 with a 4.08 goals-against average and a .886 save percentage.

MOVIES

Absolute Power starring Clint Eastwood, Gene Hackman, Ed Harris, Judy Davis, Laura Linney, Scott Glenn, Dennis Haysbert. Directed and produced by Eastwood. Written by William Goldman. Rated R.

An aging and extremely clever jewel thief witnesses a brutal murder while robbing a high powered D.C. businessman. His precarious situation is made worse as White House connections are discovered and his life is increasingly endangered.

The plot is built on melodrama and malarkey, but director and leading man Clint Eastwood, along with a strong supporting cast, transform this into an enjoyable and atmospheric thriller.

Eastwood has played against his tough guy personae before, but never with such a gleam in his eye. The plot may stretch beyond the barriers of plausibility, but his character doesn't. And we're given the chance to cozy up to this classy and honorable burglar. He discloses refined tastes, a sense of humor and sad discomfort at the relationship he doesn't have with his daughter, strongly played by Laura Linney.

The plot garners points for originality, but all those players make for an intricate story that doesn't always work. For instance, a subplot involving an assassin jumps in and out of the main story, and is finally left unresolved. The cast, however, is almost able to override the plot's credibility gaps.

Ed Harris is a personable and smart detective we instantly recognize as extremely competent. He's different from the usual movie cop in that he's not hardened against the pain of others, a fact the ever skillful Harris reveals with a gesture or a slight facial expression. The same can be said of Scott Glenn as a stoical Secret Service agent commanded to act against his conscience.

Judy Davis is the high strung Chief of Staff trying to keep a lid on a combustible situation, but one peek into her eyes and a roiling panic is plainly seen. Less convincing is Gene Hackman as the morally challenged President. Hackman is less focused than usual, never quite painting a clear picture of a man weaving between great weakness and steely strength.

E. G. Marshall, however, is touching as the elderly powerbroker suffering a great loss. He appears frail, all the while allowing us glimpses of the great strength that made him into a political player in the first place.

What glitches there are in the script are smoothed out considerably by Eastwood's direction. His sharp pacing and use of music create an atmosphere of fear and tension one doesn't expect from such a loose story line. He underscores certain scenes with a powerful eeriness, then balances the more thrilling aspects of the film with sly humor that is probably the film's greatest attribute.

According to Mrs. McGoldrick, Winter Hill Federal is currently enhancing its Custom/Serve Lending operations and Page will assist both homebuyers and homeowners with their personal financing needs. She will also represent the bank with local real estate professionals helping to further their ongoing needs and objectives.

Mrs. McGoldrick stated that "Our CustomServe Lending concept is a goals oriented approach and Stella is committed to serving the borrowing needs of customers. Her professional mortgage experience, as well as her community involvement relating to housing, will be a significant advantage in matching the personal goals of our customers with the lowest rates, lowest cost, and highest degree of service. Stella joins our team during an exciting period in the growth of the bank."

Ms. Page is a member of the Massachusetts Mortgage Bankers Association and Eastern Massachusetts Multiple Listing Service. She has studied real estate at the University of Michigan, and in Portland, Oregon at Kalamazoo Community College and Portland Community College. She has also served the Girl Scouts of America with responsibilities in financial, organizational and personnel issues.

Winter Hill Federal Savings Bank serves communities in Eastern Massachusetts with offices in Atlantic Plaza, Rts. 28, North Reading, as well as in Somerville, Saugus, and Chelsea.

At Valley Expo Center "Rev-up" for Motorcycle Expo

Motorcycle enthusiasts of all levels won't want to miss the New England Motorcycle Expo, the premier motorcycle event of the year. Lauded as the largest All Model indoor motorcycle show in New England, the New England Motorcycle Expo will take place at the Valley Expo Center on Friday through Sunday, February 21-23.

Showcasing over 300 motorcycles, The New England Motorcycle Expo also features over 200 exhibitors offering a variety of products for the avid motorcyclist. Hundreds of new models, hard-to-find parts, fashionable accessories and collectible merchandise will be available to consumers throughout the three-day event.

Area motorcycle clubs, including Massachusetts Women on Wheels and Massachusetts Retread Association will be on-site to discuss membership.

Highlighting the Expo is the Best of New England Bike Show featuring over 150 pristine motorcycles competing for the top titles in 30 different categories including "Best Paint Design," "Best Chrome Work" and "Best Antique Bike."

The grand prize winner awarded Best Motorcycle will receive a $1500 cash prize or a trip to Daytona during Daytona week, one of the largest annual motorcycle events in the country.

At 2 pm on both days, riders can preview the latest motorcycle fashions at the Leather & Lace Fashion Show. The runway will feature models wearing leather jackets, pants, boots and vests as well as riding accessories such as gloves and sunglasses.

For those looking to purchase a new motorcycle or refurbish an old model in time for spring, the New England Motorcycle Expo should be the first stop. In addition to new motorcycles, the Expo will also feature a popular Swap Meet with hundreds of motorcycle parts for sale.

Expo hours are Friday 3 to 10 pm; Saturday 11 am to 8 pm and Sunday Noon to 6 pm. The Valley Expo Center is located at the Methuen Mall, Pleasant Valley Street in Methuen.

Towns From S-3 'Room by room'

"Paul Gorman is the first of many changes that will be taking place at the Reading-Wakefield YMCA starting in the near future, notes the Wakefield edition of the "Daily Times Chronicle."

"Gorman took over as the executive director of the Y in October, and has started a program of enhancement in the 90-year-old Wakefield facility.

"According to Gorman many remodeling projects are taking place. 'We are going room by room now, remodeling the kitchen (on the second floor) and fixing the roof.'

"The two-year-old Berger Building in Reading has also seen some renovations, according to Gorman. At the facility the gym floor was just refinished and now plans are being developed to expand the fitness center.

"However the big plans for the future call for combining both facilities into one.

"Right now both facilities are too small for the programs we want to conduct," Gorman said, "and for what both communities need and want."

"He explained that the plans are only in the option stage.

"Right now we are only putting together options," Gorman said. "The 90-year-old Wakefield building has no option for expansion...."

Happy birthday, Mary!

"Mary Cuoco, believed to be one of Wilmington's oldest residents recently celebrated her 100th birthday at a surprise party at the home of her daughter on Cedar Street," notes the "Wilmington Town Crier."

"Mrs. Cuoco is the mother of 11; seven still living; five living locally and two live out of state.

"On hand for the festivities were five of her surviving children and their spouses; 26 grandchildren; 35 great-grandchildren; three great-great-grandchildren; and a few close friends."

"About the Towns" covers recent events in the 13-town Middlesex East area. Because Middlesex East deadlines are early, please check the front sections of this paper for up-to-date information about your city or town. We also welcome original material - please send it to Phyllis Nissen, "About the Towns," Middlesex East Supplement, Box 240, Reading, MA 01867.

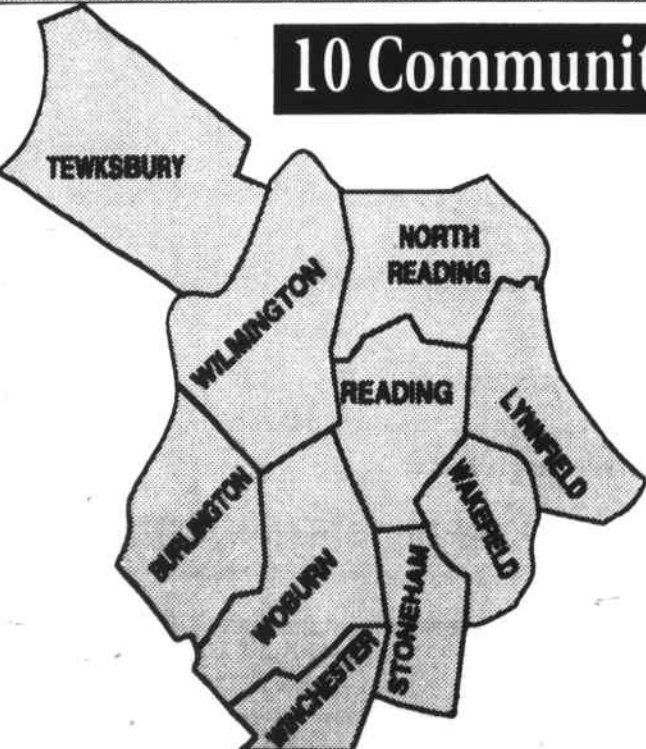

Athletes and Activities From S-7

statement is Boston's Robinson Checo, who finally surfaced at the Sox' spring training facilities in Fort Myers, Florida. When asked what his goals were for this year, the youngster didn't bother with making the team, or staying healthy, but set his sights on the Cy Young award, despite never having thrown a pitch in spring training, not to mention the big leagues here in America. Congratulations to those that answered the question correctly, and look for this space next week to find another sports-related trivia question.

•DO YOU KNOW SOMETHING WE DON'T? If you have information about a local athlete that you would like to see appear in this column, please mail it to: Paul Feely, Middlesex East Sports, P.O. Your Home: Q&A

The water in our house is not very hot. How can I trouble shoot my water heater?

If you are not getting all the hot water that you expect when you turn on your faucet, your water heater may need your attention.

Here are some simple ways to trouble-shoot a water heater:

Mineral Deposits

Mineral deposits are a common problem. Buildups in the bottom of the tank can decrease the amount of heat that reaches the water and reduce the storage capacity of the unit.

To remove the deposits, turn off the gas or electricity and close the cold-water inlet to the tank. Open an upstairs hot-water faucet. Then attach a garden hose to the drain valve at the bottom of the tank. Drain the water into a floor drain or sink, or to a safe place outside the house. This may take hours.

Once the tank is drained, reopen the cold-water valve and upstairs faucet and restart the heater.

To avoid having to clean the tank in the future, periodically flush mineral deposits from the drain valve. Drain out about 3 quarts of water into a pail. If you have soft water, do it two to four times a year. For water with a high mineral content, flush the tank monthly.

Check Fill Pipe

If you have a water heater with a plastic cold-water fill pipe and the heater isn't producing hot enough water, the fill pipe may have broken inside the tank near the top. This lets the entering cold water mix with hot water. To replace the pipe, turn off the gas or electricity and the cold water to the heater. Unthread the fitting, replace the pipe and screw the fitting back in place. If the ceiling is too low to maneuver the pipe into the tank, drain the tank, disconnect the hot-and-cold water pipes and tip the tank over. If necessary, leave the broken pipe in the tank.

Puddle Trouble

If there's a puddle of water on the floor, it may be a leak in the tank or merely dripping due to condensation. Here's an easy test: Wearing gloves to keep from burning your hands, attach a small piece of glass to the underside of the tank with duct tape. Leave some of the glass exposed. After a few hours, remove the glass. If the exterior is wet, the moisture is from condensation, not a leak.

Faster Hot Water

When a plumbing fixture, such as a bathroom sink, is far from the water heater, a lot of water must run through the pipe before hot water reaches it. Insulating the pipes that carry the hot water from the heater to the fixture can reduce the heat loss. It's especially important to insulate any pipes that run through unheated areas.

Also consider having a plumber install an "instant" water heater near the fixture. It's expensive and requires a special electrical circuit, but may be a good choice in a restricted-water-use area.

Thermostat Smarts

If you want to conserve energy and lower your electric bill, install a thermostat that turns the water heater off at night when you aren't using it, and put it back on in the morning in time for early risers.

Heat Loss Fix

A water heater that feels hot when you touch it is losing heat. If it doesn't void your warranty, cover the tank with an insulating fiberglass blanket which is available in a kit at home centers. On a gas unit, be careful not to cover the top of the tank or to block the airflow to the burner at the bottom.

New high tech tape

In a measured stroke of brilliance, a longtime maker of precision tools has combined two digital-age technologies in a familiar measuring device.

With its 16- and 25-foot digital measuring tapes, The L.S. Starrett Co. of Athol has created the first reliable full-function electronic tapes that also perform as high-quality, contractor-grade "standard" tapes.

For years, Starrett has manufactured premium-quality precision measuring tools for industrial and contractor uses. Now, with its DigiTape, which uses a fine microprocessor and an optical sensor that reads a barcode printed along the tape's blade, anyone can measure like a pro.

The tapes display feet, inches, fractions or centimeters in

House of the week

Classic ranch design

A COUPLING OF EARLY AMERICAN AND EUROPEAN DESIGN is in evidence in this home's exterior, which features classic corner quoins and keystones, decorative dormers and a brick facade that surrounds the columned porch.

With decorative brick quoins, a columned porch and dormers, this classic one-story provides an appealing blend of Early American and European design. And, the charming exterior of Plan G-29, by HomeStyles Designers Network, surrounds a tidy 1,860 square feet of living space.

Just off the foyer, the formal dining room has bay windows and an 11 1/2 foot high stepped ceiling.

The spacious great room, separated from the dining room by a columned arch, features a stepped ceiling, a built-in media center and a striking fireplace. French doors lead to a large backyard patio.

The breakfast room, which shares an eating bar with the kitchen, has a ceiling that slopes to 12 feet. French doors lead to a covered rear porch.

while the master bath offers a whirlpool tub in a bayed oak and a separate shower.

Windows help save energy

If you're in the market for new windows, you've probably noticed that the subject isn't as simple as a wood frame and a few panes of glass — and it hasn't been for some time. Over the past few years, however, advances in technology have shown that windows can play an even more important role in conserving energy than previously thought.

As recently as 1980, people who replaced their old windows with double-glazed units were at the forefront in the fight to save energy. Those who opted for triple-glazed windows — the limit of technology at the time — were considered energy fanatics.

But even those fanatics were forging a weak link in the energy chain of their homes because those triple-glazed units had insulation values of about R-3, while the walls that held them had R values that ranged from 11 to 19.

In many well-insulated houses, therefore, the windows were simply holes in the wall where vast amounts of energy escaped. In fact, the average home loses about 25 percent of the energy it consumes through heat loss at windows.

Today, things are different. Most windows are still energy drains, but there are units available that are much more energy efficient than the glazing systems of the past. Some windows boast insulation values as high as R-8. But these currently account for a very small part of the window market.

Plain double-glazed windows make up the bulk of the market, but, fortunately, most window manufacturers and just about all of the better known companies sell some version of high-performance glazing.

Manufacturers are able to offer better insulated glazings because of the development of low-e (low-emissivity) coatings. Basically, a low-e coating does a good job of reflecting radiant heat — the kind of heat given off by bodies, furniture and some heating systems.

When applied to a window, the coating reflects the heat back into the home, raising the R value of the window. Some low-e coatings are also used to reflect outside heat radiated by the street and buildings.

Some coatings are bonded to the glass, others are incorporated into the glass and still others are applied to a film that's suspended between two panes of glass. There are pros and cons for each type. For example, coatings that are bonded to the surface of the glass, called soft coat, offer the best insulating properties. However, coatings that are part of the glass, called hard coat, are more durable.

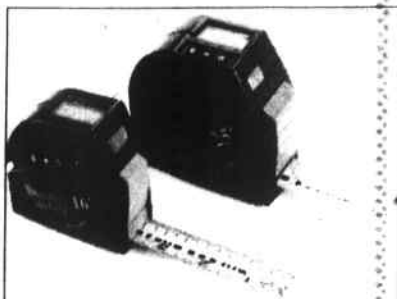

The type of coating probably doesn't mean all that much to the homeowner who is buying new windows. What does mean a lot is that the low-e coatings are invisible and that the windows that contain them have insulation values of about R-3. That means that a double-pane window with a low-e coating has the same insulating properties as a triple-glazed window, but the low-e window is about 50 percent lighter.

To increase the thermal effectiveness of low-e windows, manufacturers can fill the air space between the panes with an inert gas, usually argon, but others are used. These gases are more effective than air at decreasing heat loss through conduction. When combined with low-e coatings, gas-filled double-glazed windows can have an insulation value of around R-4.

large digital figures; automatically add their case lengths to inside measurements; remember measurements for later reference; and shut themselves off. They even recalibrate themselves every 1.5 inches.

Simple, convenient, push-button controls access all functions. The "zero" reading feature is handy when laying off a number of consecutive marks. The "re-zero" button instantly establishes a new "zero point" at any blade position.

The tapes have rugged polymer cases with solid internal components designed to absorb the punishment of harsh job-site conditions.

The 25-foot model has a 1-inch wide blade that's perfect for jobs like framing or deck construction, and the lightweight 16-foot version with three-quarter inch blade satisfies most do-it-yourselfers' measuring needs.

Both models have steel blades with a clear ultra-violet top coating for exceptional durability.

Car Mart will sell cars

by Kevin Maher
An application by C.J. Patti and Car Mart, Inc., for a Class I and Class II license, headed the appointments for Monday's Board of Selectmen's meeting. Committee members voted unanimously in favor of granting Mr. Patti's license request for a vehicular dealership at 277 Main Street.

Speaking on behalf of Car Mart, Inc. was Attorney Robert G. Peterson, who successfully fought the board's previous suggestion of blocking any permits on 277 Main Street because of taxes owed by the previous owner.

The second issue for the 24th of February was negotiations for a new cable license. A 10 year renewal for Continental Cable was authorized, with the condition that no significant changes are made to the original agreement. Jeffrey Hull, chairman of the Cable Advisory Task Force, also asked for a 30 day temporary license in order to work out details with Continental. Mr. Hull did not believe that Continental would accept a 30 day contract, but felt it was a good option to have.

The residents of Molloy Road were next before the board with a petition concerning the condition of their road. Being over 20 years of age, this private way is in need of some repair, in the eyes of the residents. According to the town Betterment Act, the cost of repairs are only covered by the town when the damage is a safety hazard. Excluding that fact, Molloy Road is one of many petitioned streets that is not owned by Wilmington.

At the moment, any repairs on the condition of the road will come primarily from the pockets of the residents of Molloy Road. The town will cover the additional 23% of the cost, which is of no relief to residents who may end up footing a bill of close to $6,000. A recommendation by the Committee on Unaccepted Ways will be presented at the Town meeting in April. The Selectmen agree that unaccepted roadways are causing problems for the residents.

Other appointed topics for the weekly meeting were, an update relative to options for bus service from Lowell to Wilmington by the Lowell Regional Transit Authority, as well as, the renewal of automatic device licenses to operate a Billiard Room at 380 Middlesex Avenue.

The evening ended around 11:00 p.m. with the usual letters of communications. Some of the issues included, changes to the WCTV channel line-up, appointment of a new executive director of the MBTA advisory board, and a list of some upcoming DARE graduation dates.

Lottery Commission hearing today

by Frank Amato
The Massachusetts State Lottery Commission has scheduled a hearing for Wednesday, February 26th at 2:30 p.m. at lottery headquarters in Braintree regarding the Keno application of Uptown Deli.

Selectmen voted unanimously to object to the application of Uptown Deli owner Barry Fiorenza to put Keno at his establishment on Middlesex Ave at a December meeting.

Recent legislative changes gives cities and towns the opportunity to give input to the Massachusetts State Lottery Commission, (MSLC) prior to licensure by the MSLC.

Before the change the MSLC simply made it's own decision on the merits of the location and suitability of the location for Keno. The MSLC began to find out that cities and towns were concerned that they were not given an opportunity to voice their opinions about a particular location.

If the city or town objects to the issuance of the Keno license, it must claim its right to a Hearing before the MSLC within 21 days after notification.

Selectman Bob Cain asked if there was a recommendation by the Chief of Police. "I would not recommend issuance of a Keno license," Town Manager Michael Cairra said reading from a document from Police Chief Bobby Stewart.

"It has always been the policy of the board to follow the recommendation of our department heads," said Chairman Jim Rooney.

"I'm just trying to add another game, I already have lottery," Fiorenza said.

The Board then requested Cairra to file the necessary objection with the MSLC. "We can always withdraw our objection after getting more information from the Chief," said Selectman Michael Newhouse.

Two establishments in Wilmington, Mancini's and Uncle Mickey's already have licenses to operate Keno. "We had no authority at the time to object" Cairra said.

The Selectmen have asked Chief Stewart to represent the town at the hearing.

Tea, dolls, quilts and beer

Tavern to host three events

by John Gabriel
The Harnden Tavern will be holding three fund-raisers to promote involvement among residents in the area. Jim Murray of the Wilmington Historical Commission, is organizing three projects to help the Tavern.

The Joshua Harnden Tavern is an old colonial building built in the 1700's where Harnden and his family lived. The tavern was located at a cross road of The Andover Rd and Salem Road. People could stop to eat, and feed their horses on their way to such cities as Lowell and Boston on their way from Salem or Andover.

"First, is the 'Quilting Project.' People involved in making quilts will be able to display their art with others sharing their interests. From 1:00 p.m. - 4:00 p.m., on April 6th, tea will be served, and people will be asked to give 3 dollars as a donation to the cause.

"History of Beer" will be the theme on May 4th from 1:00 p.m. to 4:00 p.m. The Middlesex Brewing Company in Wilmington will be sponsoring the event offering free beer tasting to those involved. Representatives from the brewery will be sharing the history of their beer, and explaining how their brewery got started.

"Tea for Dolls" with Colonial Abigail will be happening on June 8th from 1:00 p.m. to 4:00 p.m. Admission includes one parent and child. This promises to be an exciting event where people will be involved with "tea talk." Participants will be dressing up in their best colonial wear and listening to stories told by little Abigail Harnden. Those wishing to participate are encouraged to bring their own tea. A raffle will be held to see who wins the grand prize- the genuine doll of Abigail. Admission for this will be $20.

The tavern can hold only 100 people, so the public is urged to get their tickets early. LeDuc's Card Shop on Lowell St. in Wilmington is handling the ticket sales. The Friends of Harnden Tavern is seeking any volunteers and people with new innovative ideas for next year. For more information please call Jane McGrath at 658-5720 for information on joining the "Friends." Jim Murray can be reached at 657-0209.

Manager gets another nod

by Frank Amato
The board of selectman voted unanimously to reappoint town Manager Michael Cairra to another 3 year term of service.

Chairman Jim Rooney appointed selectmen Michael Newhouse and Dan Wandell to negotiate the terms Cairra's new contract.

"I wish to thank the board for the confidence you have placed in me," Cairra said.

Ivan gets a shop

by Frank Amato
This story has a happy ending. Remember Ivan Palmer? Ivan was featured in the January 27th issue of the Town Crier as a Wilmington Good Guy being the victim of town red tape. Ivan performs volunteer work refurbishing wheelchairs and other aids for the disabled. His work had outpaced his space. He was searching for a new larger location for his shop. Every place, and everyone Ivan had turned to, he came up empty. Now, the Town Crier has a happy ending to this long saga.

Ivan put his trust in Selectman Jim Rooney. That trust proved well placed.

Rooney contacted school committee chair Paul Palizzolo and the two combined to find Ivan a new home for him and his equipment.

On Monday, Palmer and Rooney met with Bob Gurdy, the head custodian at the high school and the trio toured the industrial arts area and Ivan began moving his equipment into the vacant machine shop at the school today.

This story has a happy ending because good people got together and got good things done.

Good luck, Ivan, and kudos to all those involved.

Officer Redding transferred to rehab hospital

by Frank Amato
Wilmington police officer Lawrence Redding who was seriously injured in a car accident on Salem street, January 28th, remains in a coma, but has been transferred to a Salem, N. H. rehabilitation hospital.

Redding was transferred February 19th to the Northeast Rehabilitation Hospital in Salem, N.H. from the Lahey-Hitchcock Clinic in Burlington.

The accident occurred near 132 Salem st. That area has a very sharp "s" curve and was wet at the time. He was on duty at the time, but driving his personal vehicle.

Deputy police chief Bernard Nally indicated the Redding is breathing on his own without the use of a respirator. Nally also indicated that staff members at the rehabilitation center would be exercising his joints and muscles while he remains in a coma.

Anyone wishing to send cards of support to Officer Redding should send them in care of the Wilmington Police Department at Adelaide street, Wilmington, MA 01887 and they will make sure that Officer Redding's family receives them.
